Air Strength Debate Picture Not Complete

President Says Only Air Force Mentioned So Far In Hearings

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower, a one-time five star Army general, today cautioned that America should not forget its powerful Navy in evaluating the nation's air strength.

Eisenhower told a news conference the United States has a very powerful Navy with a powerful air arm. He said the fact has been lost sight of so far in comparing this country's relative strength to that of the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower said this country does not try to match Russia in ground power. He indicated it should not necessarily try to match the Soviet Union in the rate of output of such things as intercontinental bombers.

The President's remarks came against a background of statements earlier this week by Gen. Curtis Lemay, chief of the Strategic Air Command (SAC) and Secretary of Defense Wilson, that current U. S. production of intercontinental bombers capable of carrying hydrogen bombs is lagging behind Russian output.

LEMAY PREDICTED that Russia is likely to surpass this country in the intercontinental bomb field by 1958-60.

The SAC chief testified before a Senate Armed Services subcommittee which is looking into the relative positions of the United States and Russia as to air power.

Eisenhower was asked whether he is concerned about that situation. He replied that he believes we ought to broaden our vision to look at more than one part of the whole picture.

Referring to Lemay's testimony, Eisenhower said it is disappointing that some B52 intercontinental bombers have had to be rejected temporarily because of defects which he said are being corrected.

But there still is much testimony to come in the Senate committee's investigation, Eisenhower added, and said it should not be forgotten that this country has the most powerful Navy in the world and that it features one thing—air power.

The President went on to say that when the Defense Department has had an opportunity to present the whole picture regarding America's military might, the people will find that great bodies of men have not been idle.

The big thing, he said, is that our airpower is not confined to one type of airplane.

The President also spoke of this country's having air bases all over the world as part of its overall defense setup.

THE NEWS conference also dealt with other matters: Tax limit—Eisenhower said he would want to give very careful study to the idea of a constitutional limitation of income taxes before making up his mind. He made that remark when told that Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) wants to put a ceiling on income taxes.

In reply, Eisenhower said he was shooting from the hip, but that if you get such a limitation principle too rigidly written into law, what do you do in the event of an emergency?

Berserk Pupil Kills Teacher

2 Other Instructors Wounded In Maryland

SEAT PLEASANT, Md. (P)—A 15-year-old pupil went berserk with a rifle at Maryland Park Junior High School today, shooting to death one teacher and wounding two others.

The incident threw the school into an uproar. After the shooting, the school was closed immediately for the day. Instructors began helping hysterical, crying boys and girls into buses.

Frazer Cameron, 32, was wounded fatally.

Francis Daniel Wagner, 25, the athletic coach at the school, was shot in the chest.

The third victim, Robert Hicks, 31, was shot in the hand.

Police Chief George J. Panagoulis said police are questioning Billy Ray Prevatt, 15, Seat Pleasant, a member of the 8-B class.

One student, 13-year-old Robert Haywood, gave this version: "I saw this boy walking down a third floor hall carrying a bolt action .22 automatic rifle."

"Mr. Cameron was in his class teaching. The boy pointed the gun into the open doorway and fired, hitting Mr. Cameron."

"Then he ran down the steps to the principal's office on the first floor. He was going through the office door when Mr. Wagner walked into the hall. He was shot in the stomach, I think."

"About that time Mr. Hicks ran up and jumped on the boy, who fired again and shot him in the hand."

Columbus Cops Capture 5 Boys

COLUMBUS (P)—Police said four youths were captured and another was shot today as they tried to flee from a stolen auto on the East Side.

Police said they still were seeking a sixth boy who they said was the driver of the vehicle.

The 14-year-old East Side boy who was shot was reported in good condition in a hospital with a bullet wound in his right thigh.

The four youths captured are being held in the Juvenile Detention Home, police reported.

Senate Eyes New Farm Bill After Getting OK In House

WASHINGTON (P)—A new farm bill, believed acceptable in most respects to President Eisenhower, went to the Senate today after clearing House barriers.

The House passed the bill 314-78 yesterday after rejecting Eisenhower's request for authority to make soil bank payments to farmers this year in advance of next year's operations.

Democrats for: Ashley, Feighan, Hays, Polk and Vanik.

Republicans against: Clevenger and Scherer.

Paired for: Jenkins (R). Paires against: Hess (R).

Listed as not voting or absent: Vorys (R) and Kirwan (D).

THE SOIL BANK itself was approved, with authority to pay $14 billion a year to farmers for taking land out of production. Payments this year were approved for those who comply this year.

Defeat of the President's pay-in-advance proposal, denounced by Democrats as a Republican election-year "vote buying" gimmick, was the principal result of yesterday's House action.

It was a resounding defeat for Eisenhower on that one score.

But otherwise, the President lost nothing else of what he asked and was handed little that he didn't want.

Left out of it were most of the items singled out by Eisenhower as objectionable when, on April 16, he vetoed an omnibus farm bill which originally provided for the soil bank.

These included rigid price supports at a mandatory 90 per cent of parity, two-price systems for wheat and rice, and alternate methods of figuring support levels.

The House voted to extend the soil bank coverage to livestock raisers and, subject to Secretary of Agriculture Benson's approval, to a large number of crops. For that purpose it added $50 million to Eisenhower's original request to make the yearly total an even $14 billion.

The bill also would authorize $500 million for disposal of surplus per-

Missourian Finds Ohio Girl's Effects

LEBANON, Mo. (P)—The discovery of abandoned clothing and other items including identification papers near here touched off a search today for Miss Frances Kaye Fea, a 19-year-old Oxford, Ohio, girl.

The clothing, personal papers, a handbag, two billfolds, purse and a portable radio were found on a dead end country road about three miles west of this south-central Missouri city yesterday afternoon by Bernard Meeth, a farmer.

LaCade County Sheriff Neil Brown said a call to Ward Williams of the Procter and Gamble Corp. in Cincinnati verified information in the identification papers that a Miss Fea was employed there.

Brown said Williams told him that Miss Fea supposedly boarded a bus in Cincinnati late Wednesday en route to Los Angeles in connection with her work.

Brown said a thorough search of the area where the clothing and papers were found would be made. He also said authorities would attempt to establish if Miss Fea had actually boarded the bus and when she was last seen.

Pinball-Crazy Postmaster Freed

CLEVELAND (P)—Thanks to his neighbors, a former Gates Mills postmaster who embezzled $1,613 in federal funds got off with five years probation today.

Neighbors of the man, Robert A. Pouttu, 37, chipped in to repay the money he took.

Pouttu, who is married and has a young son, said he squandered all but $100 of the stolen money to play pinball machines.

ishable commodities and an additional $200 million for sending surpluses overseas.

BYPLAY ON the pay-in-advance issue was highlighted by a proposal from Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) to require that advance soil bank payments be reported to the clerk of the House "in the same manner as other political contributions." That was voted down.

The provision to make soil bank benefits available to livestock men was sponsored by Rep. Albert (D-Okla.). It would authorize up to $50 million of soil bank payments to ranchers reducing the amount of their grazing land.

The House approved also a proposal by Rep. McIntyre (R-Maine) to make all farm commodities eligible for soil bank benefits, and add another $50 million to the payment fund. The broadened provision was made discretionary with the secretary of agriculture.

Only the basic crops (wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco) and secondary feed grains were eligible under the terms of the bill as introduced.

2 Ohio Students Killed In Crash

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (P)—A light plane crashed in a field three miles south of here Thursday night killing two Air ROTC students.

They were Charles F. Walch, 21, of Sedalia, Mo., and Arnold P. Gilpatrick, 20, of Worthington, Ohio. Both were students at Kenyon College. Walch, a senior, was lieutenant in the Air Force upon his graduation in June. Gilpatrick was a sophomore.

Both youths were licensed pilots.

The Piper PA 18 trainer was on loan from the Air Force.

National Sports Car Rally Friday To Use City as Starting Point

A sports car rally—which will use the whole state of Ohio as its course—will bring nationwide attention to Washington C. H. this weekend.

On Friday evening (tonight), the city will serve as one of six starting points in the state for the Ohio 24, which takes its name from the place and the time limit of the national auto event.

Laid out over an 800-mile course running counter-clockwise around the state, the rally will be a 24-hour endurance and reliability test.

Purpose of the rally is "to prove it is possible to drive long distances over every type of road, at all hours of the day and night, and reach one's destination on time without speeding, discourtesy and accidents."

That's the way the sponsoring Sports Car Club of America sums up the event, which is expected to draw 100 cars and 200 drivers from all over the nation. Co-sponsor with the SCCA is Sohio Oil Co.

Ham radio operators—that is the amateurs—will join sports car drivers in displaying their talents during the rally. Hams from all parts of the state will do the coordinating communication during the rally from the checkpoints to the rally's central headquarters. Working here will be operators John Leland, Jack Yeoman and Bernie Witherspoon from Washington C. H. and Everett Woodmansee of Sabina.

THE RALLY is not a race, the sponsors emphasize. The endurance run is a race against the clock, but will penalize the driver who moves too fast as well as the one who drags his tires.

Appeals Are Made For 'Calm' In Storm Over School Issue

"Appeals for 'calm deliberation' and 'cooler heads' in the school controversy, hottest fire under the county's bubbling political pot, highlighted Thursday evening's 'Meet Your Candidate' meeting in the Farm Bureau auditorium.

Some 65 Fayette Countians turned out to hear a dozen candidates summarize their reasons for running for office in next Tuesday's primary elections. The meeting was sponsored by the county Farm Bureau.

Most references to the school issue came when candidates either said they were representatives of neither faction or disavowed the issue entirely.

But John Case, unopposed for re-election as judge of common pleas court, devoted most of his talk to a plea for moderation in the school battle.

"Calm deliberation," he said, "is more apt to solve this problem." He repeated the request for open-mindedness which he makes to every jury who hears a case in his court. That request applies to this controversy too, he said.

"Do not let it grow so deep and bitter that you suffer friendships of years' duration," he concluded.

Virgil Perrill, incumbent as the county's representative to the Ohio General Assembly, called for "competent, unbiased persons" to settle the school issue with a survey of educational needs.

"Neither the city nor the county will be able to pass a bond issue until cooler heads prevail," he warned.

THE ONLY open clash came between Perrill and Frank J. Weade, his opponent for the Republican nomination to the Ohio General Assembly.

Weade charged that Perrill was in his sixth term in the assembly and had been quoted some time ago in the Record-Herald as saying that "three terms are enough."

Perrill corrected Weade on the number of terms he has served; he is in his fifth term, he said.

"I don't think you'll find that comment from me in the newspaper," he added.

Other hassles between Weade and Perrill led Perrill to explain the workings of the new law authorizing Citizens' Committees on school problems (a law which he helped work on, but which does not presently apply to Fayette County) and to explain the current battle over taxation of wheat stored under government loan.

It was in answer to questions from Weade that Perrill made his plea for an impartial school survey here and his prediction that neither the city nor the county would be able to pass a school bond issue "until cooler heads prevail."

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS of the meeting included the statement from Glenn Griffith, candidate for auditor, that taxes will go up because property revaluation will be inevitable "whoever is elected."

Charles Fabb, candidate for treasurer, put on the record his objection to the "misleading" impression given by a report carried by a local news source (not the Record-Herald).

He was referring to a local broadcast stating that all Fayette County officials with the single exception of Fabb had endorsed the candidacy of C. William O'Neill for the Republican nomination as governor.

"I circulated the first (nominating) petition for that candidate (O'Neill). I signed myself and secured the signatures of all the officers in the Court House," Fabb said. "When I was asked to give my endorsement, I pointed out I thought my endorsement might detract from the votes he might secure."

"I think circulating that petition is stronger evidence than mere endorsement," he concluded.

THE CANDIDATES were introduced by Kenneth Bush, chairman of the Farm Bureau's legislative committee. Bush went down the primary ballot, introducing candidates office by office.

The speakers were Lowell Fess, Ray Brandenburg, Virgil Perrill, Frank J. Weade, Lawrence E. Grim, Glenn C. Griffith, Rollo M. Marchant, Roy C. Underwood, Theodore G. Warner, Phillip H. Tatum, Charles A. Fabb and John P. Fess, in that order.

Fess, running for the Republican nomination as state senator from the fifth-sixth state senatorial district, opened his talk with a short autobiographical note.

Highlights of the career he outlined included his work as secretary to his father (the late U. S. Senator Simeon Fess), his work in helping organize the Ohio Council of Retail Merchants and as general sales manager for a New York drug firm and as vice president of a Firestone Rubber Co. division.

His political background includes three terms as mayor of Yellow Springs (his present residence), service on the Greene County Board of Elections, on the executive and central Republican committees of that county and for eight years in the Ohio House of Representatives, after which he moved into the state senate. He is now serving on six state senate committees.

HIS OPPONENT, Ray Brandenburg of Washington C. H., opened his talk by stressing the "clean campaign" that he and Fess have conducted. Born on a farm in Clinton County, Brandenburg outlined his early years and education.

He farmed until 1928, he said, when he went into the auto business. "I will let my reputation in that stand, in my own community," he said. He has lived in Fayette County for about 25 years, he added.

His activities in the community he listed as including President of the Fair Board, past presidency of the Rotary Club, 12 years' service on the city school board, including several terms as its president, activity in Rotary Club and the Chamber of Commerce, and work as finance chairman of the county's Republican organization.

He also has been active, he said, in the Ohio Hereford Association and has been president of both the state and national Automobile Dealers' Associations.

His experience fits him for the job, he declared, adding that his fresh viewpoint would be beneficial.

"The present incumbent (Fess) should be relieved," he said. "He has done his share—more than his share."

VIRGIL PERRILL, a Fayette County native, next outlined his work as manager of a Chicago trucking delivery firm, a real estate broker, employee of the Cleveland Trust Co., "the largest banking firm in Ohio," and as a farm manager.

His opponent for the county's seat in the general assembly, Frank Weade, referred to the reputation of his father, the late John Weade. Though his father was a Democrat, Weade said, he himself is a Republican.

Then began the verbal duel between Weade and Perrill. Starting during Weade's talk (which Perrill interrupted to correct Weade's remark that Perrill was in his "sixth" term in the assembly), the sharp exchange continued during the brief question period following the last candidate's talk.

Weade concluded by saying "I know the people of Fayette County."

Lawrence Grim, the only candidate for county commissioner present at the meeting, outlined his early life on a farm, his education at Madison Mills High School, his subsequent work on a farm and many years service as a Madison Township trustee.

GRIM'S OPPONENTS, incumbents Robert C. Cockerill and Ralph H. Minton, were at a meeting of county commissioners, auditors, sheriffs and engineers in London.

Glenn Griffith, candidate for county auditor, outlined his experience as a traveling auditor for an express company, a public auditor, sales manager for two firms and personnel and sales manager for the American Automobile Association. His business experience, he said, would enable him to keep costs down in the county auditor's office.

He closed, however, by warning that taxes will definitely be increased next year "because property valuations must be reappraised, whoever is elected."

Griffith's opponent, incumbent Harry R. Allen, was also attending the London meeting and was not present.

Rollo Marchant, a practicing attorney here since 1953, outlined his education at a number of univer-

Appointment Of New Citizen Group Sought

Petition Filed Nov. 4, 1955, Ignored By Board, Claim

Formation of a Citizens Committee representing the whole of Fayette County for the study of the school situation was sought in a suit filed in Probate Court here at 11 o'clock Friday morning.

The request is based on the contention in the suit that the merger of the Paint (Bookwalter), Jefferson and Bloomingburg with the Miami Trace District by action of the Fayette County Board of Education was illegal, because it ignored a petition, signed by 537 voters, asking that a Citizens Committee be formed.

The petition states that on Nov. 4, 1955, the petition requesting a Citizens Committee was filed with the clerk of the County School Board, W. J. Hilly, and that he "failed to perform the duties imposed by section 3311.30 of the Revised Code within the time provided by law."

(No such Citizens Committee has been formed. In 1954, a Citizens Committee was formed; this is the committee that recommended the consolidation of eight township districts that went to make up the new Miami Trace district.)

THE COMMITTEE formed in 1954, the petitions contend, went out of existence when the law under which it was formed was amended to include participation of all districts affected. This would have included the Washington C. H. district, they say.

Because the Citizens Committee requested by the Nov. 4, 1955, petition was not formed before the Bloomingburg, Jefferson and Paint (Bookwalter) districts were transferred to the Miami Trace district, the petitioners contend the transfer was illegal.

They also contend that the action of the County Board "attempting and purporting to transfer" these districts to the Miami Trace district "acted contrary to the will of the electorate."

THE FULL text of the petition follows:

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

Plaintiffs say that on November 4, 1955, a Petition (herein sometimes referred to as Electors' Petition) was filed with the Fayette County Board of Education containing the signatures of 537 electors of Fayette County who voted in the last preceding general election in said county, which is greater than the number of electors required by Section 3311.30 of the Revised Code. Plaintiffs further say that said petition was filed pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of Section 3311.30 of the Revised Code of Ohio requesting the establishment of a Citizens Committee to study the needs and recommend proposals for the reorganization of the school districts of the county and further requesting the Fayette County Board of Education to call a convention which shall be held at the County Seat at a time fixed by the County Superintendent of the Schools.

Plaintiffs further say that at the time said Petition was filed there was in existence in Fayette County the following school districts: Bloomingburg Local School District, Jefferson Local School District, Miami Trace Local School District, Paint Local School District, Washington C. H. City School District and Fayette County School District, which contained all the territory in Fayette County.

Plaintiffs say that the Defendant, Board of Education, Washington C. H. City School District, unanimously adopted a resolution at the regular meeting of said Board held on the 14th day of November, 1955, which requests representation in the convention called for the purpose of naming members to the County Citizens Committee and which further requests that it be given its proportionate share of members on said County Citizens Committee pursuant to Section 3311.30 of the Revised Code of Ohio.

Plaintiffs further say that on or about November 23, 1955 the Defendant, Washington C. H. City Board of Education, sent a letter addressed to Defendant, W. J. Hilly, Superintendent, Fayette County Schools and Clerk of Defendant, Fayette County Board of Education, which contained a copy of such resolution.

Plaintiffs say that the Defendant, Board of Education, Fayette County School District, together with its Clerk and Superintendent, Defendant,

Students and the teaching staff on Rose Avenue School don't have to go very far to enjoy the red bud trees, which are now in bloom. The reason is that there are a half dozen of them, now in full bloom, scattered over the school grounds. They attract much attention and are greatly admired year after year.

Speaking of the Rose Avenue school grounds, reminds me that when the "English addition" surrounding the grounds was laid out many years ago, the block now occupied for school purposes, was dedicated as a public park but never developed.

When no park was laid out after many years, it was taken over for school purposes and Rose Avenue School building was erected.

Appointment Of New Citizen Group Sought

Petition Filed Nov. 4, 1955, Ignored By Board, Claim

Formation of a Citizens Committee representing the whole of Fayette County for the study of the school situation was sought in a suit filed in Probate Court here at 11 o'clock Friday morning.

The request is based on the contention in the suit that the merger of the Paint (Bookwalter), Jefferson and Bloomingburg with the Miami Trace District by action of the Fayette County Board of Education was illegal, because it ignored a petition, signed by 537 voters, asking that a Citizens Committee be formed.

The petition states that on Nov. 4, 1955, the petition requesting a Citizens Committee was filed with the clerk of the County School Board, W. J. Hilty, and that he "failed to perform the duties imposed by section 3311.30 of the Revised Code within the time provided by law."

(No such Citizens Committee has been formed. In 1954, a Citizens Committee was formed; this is the committee that recommended the consolidation of eight townships into districts that went to make up the new Miami Trace district.)

THE COMMITTEE formed in 1954, the petitions contend, went out of existence when the law under which it was formed was amended to include participation of all districts affected. This would have included the Washington C. H. district, they say.

Because the Citizens Committee requested by the Nov. 4, 1955, petition was not formed before the Bloomingburg, Jefferson and Paint (Bookwalter) districts were transferred to the Miami Trace district, the petitioners contend the transfer was illegal.

They also contend that the action of the County Board "attempting and purporting to transfer" these districts to the Miami Trace district "acted contrary to the will of the electorate."

THE FULL text of the petition follows:

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

Plaintiffs say that on November 4, 1955, a Petition (hereinafter sometimes referred to as Electors' Petition) was filed with the Fayette County Board of Education containing the signatures of 537 electors of Fayette County who voted in the last preceding general election in said county, which is greater than the number of electors required by Section 3311.30 of the Revised Code. Plaintiffs further say that said petition was filed pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of Section 3311.30 of the Revised Code of Ohio requesting the establishment of a Citizens Committee to study the needs and recommend proposals for the reorganization of the school districts of the county and further requesting the Fayette County Board of Education to call a convention which shall be held at the County Seat at a time fixed by the County Superintendent of the Schools.

Plaintiffs further say that at the time said Petition was filed there was in existence in Fayette County the following school districts: Bloomingburg Local School District, Jefferson Local School District, Miami Trace Local School District, Paint Local School District, Washington C. H. City School District and Fayette County School District, which contained all the territory in Fayette County.

Plaintiffs say that the Defendant, Board of Education, Washington C. H. City School District, unanimously adopted a resolution at the regular meeting of said Board held on the 14th day of November, 1955, which requests representation in the convention called for the purpose of naming members to the County Citizens Committee and which further requests that it be given its proportionate share of members on said County Citizens Committee pursuant to Section 3311.30 of the Revised Code of Ohio.

Plaintiffs further say that on or about November 23, 1955 the Defendant, Washington C. H. City Board of Education, sent a letter addressed to Defendant, W. J. Hilty, Superintendent, Fayette County Schools and Clerk of Defendant, Fayette County Board of Education, which contained a copy of such resolution.

Plaintiffs say that the Defendant, Board of Education, Fayette County School District, together with its Clerk and Superintendent, Defendant,

Senate Eyes New Farm Bill After Getting OK In House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new farm bill, believed acceptable in most respects to President Eisenhower, went to the Senate today after clearing House barriers.

The House passed the bill 314-78 yesterday after rejecting Eisenhower's request for authority to make soil bank payments to farmers this year in advance of next year's operations.

Here is how Ohio's 23 representatives voted on the bill:

Democrats for: Ashley, Feighan, Hays, Polk and Vanik.

Republicans against: Clevenger and Scherer.

Paired for: Jenkins (R). Paires against: Hess (R).

Listed as not voting or absent: Vorys (R) and Kirwan (D).

THE SOIL BANK itself was approved, with authority to pay $1 1/4 billion a year to farmers for taking land out of production. Payments this year were approved for those who comply this year.

Defeat of the President's pay-in-advance proposal, denounced by Democrats as a Republican election-year "vote buying" gimmick, was the principal result of yesterday's House action.

It was a resounding defeat for Eisenhower on that one score.

But otherwise, the President lost nothing else of what he asked and was handed little that he didn't want.

Left out of it were most of the items singled out by Eisenhower as objectionable when, on April 16, he vetoed an omnibus farm bill which originally provided for the soil bank.

These included rigid price supports at a mandatory 90 per cent of parity, two-price systems for wheat and rice, and alternate methods of figuring support levels.

The House voted to extend the soil bank coverage to livestock raisers and, subject to Secretary of Agriculture Benson's approval, to a large number of crops. For that purpose it added $50 million to Eisenhower's original request to make the yearly total an even $1 1/4 billion.

The bill also would authorize $500 million for disposal of surplus perishable commodities and an additional $200 million for sending surpluses overseas.

BYPLAY on the pay-in-advance issue was highlighted by a proposal from Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) to require that advance soil bank payments be reported to the clerk of the House "in the same manner as other political contributions." That was voted down.

The provision to make soil bank benefits available to livestock men was sponsored by Rep. Albert (D-Okla.). It would authorize up to $50 million of soil bank payments to ranchers reducing the amount of their grazing land.

The House approved also a proposal by Rep. McIntyre (R-Maine) to make all farm commodities eligible for soil bank benefits, and add another $50 million to the payment fund. The broadened provision was made discretionary with the secretary of agriculture.

Only the basic crops (wheat, corn, cotton, rice, peanuts and tobacco) and secondary feed grains were eligible under the terms of the bill as introduced.

Missourian Finds Ohio Girl's Effects

LEBANON, Mo. (AP)—The discovery of abandoned clothing and other items including identification papers near here touched off a search today for Miss Frances Kaye Fea, a 19-year-old Oxford, Ohio, girl.

The clothing, personal papers, a handbag, two billfolds, purse and a portable radio were found on a dead end country road about three miles west of this south-central Missouri city yesterday afternoon by Burnard Meeth, a farmer.

LaCade County Sheriff Neil Brown said a call to Ward Williams of the Procter and Gamble Corp. in Cincinnati verified information in the identification papers that a Miss Fea was employed there.

Brown said Williams told him that Miss Fea supposedly boarded a bus in Cincinnati late Wednesday en route to Los Angeles in connection with her work.

Brown said a thorough search of the area where the clothing and papers were found would be made. He also said authorities would attempt to establish if Miss Fea had actually boarded the bus and when she was last seen.

Pinball-Crazy Postmaster Freed

CLEVELAND (AP)—Thanks to his neighbors, a former Gates Mills postmaster who embezzled $1,613 in federal funds got off with five years probation today.

Neighbors of the man, Robert A. Pouttu, 37, chipped in to repay the money he took.

Pouttu, who is married and has a young son, said he squandered all but $100 of the stolen money to play pinball machines.

A sports car rally—which will use the whole state of Ohio as its course—will bring nationwide attention to Washington C. H. this weekend.

On Friday evening (tonight), the city will serve as one of six starting points in the state for the Ohio 24, which takes its name from the place and the time limit of the national auto event.

Laid out over an 800-mile course running counter-clockwise around the state, the rally will be a 24-hour endurance and reliability test.

Purpose of the rally is "to prove it is possible to drive long distances over every type of road, at all hours of the day and night, and reach one's destination on time without speeding, discourtesy and accidents."

That's the way the sponsoring Sports Car Club of America sums up the event, which is expected to draw 100 cars and 200 drivers from all over the nation. Co-sponsor with the SCCA is Sohio Oil Co.

Ham radio operators—that is the amateurs—will join sports car drivers in displaying their talents during the rally. Hams from all parts of the state will do the coordinating communication during the rally from the checkpoints to the rally's central headquarters. Working here will be operators John Leland, Jack Yeoman and Bernie Witherspoon from Washington C. H. and Everett Woodmansee of Sabina.

THE RALLY is not a race, the sponsors emphasize. The endurance run is a race against the clock, but will penalize the driver who moves too fast as well as the one who drags his tires.

sities, his service in the Navy and his eventual decision to practice law. He is associated with Richard Rankin.

He closed by saying that he does not seek support of "any individual, group, board or association seeking some special consideration" in the school issue.

HIS OPPONENT, incumbent John Bath, sent word to the meeting that his duties had kept him busy and that he would be unable to attend the meeting.

Also absent from the meeting was Orland Hays, incumbent as sheriff. He was at the London meeting, chairman Bush announced.

Roy Underwood, candidate for nomination as sheriff, listed his experience as a special policeman at the Fair, as a policeman in Washington C. H., as a sheriff's deputy and as a military policeman during the war.

Now employed by the city schools, he said he had attended "none of the meetings they have there," and was not associated with any group involved in the school controversy.

One of his two opponents for the Republican nomination, Theodore Warner, spoke next, stressing his experience as a technical sergeant in the military police. He has since run a service station, he said, and would be able "to protect Fayette County as it should be protected" if elected sheriff.

He said he would never stay in office more than two terms, pointing out that the present sheriff was in his third term and is seeking nomination to run for a fourth.

THE SOLE Democratic candidate at the session was Philip Tatman, unopposed for his party's nomination as sheriff. He said his father was a Republican but that he, as a strong believer in the two-party system, was a Democrat.

He listed as experience, service in the military police and work in service stations.

"I have one advantage over my fellow candidates," he concluded. "I know I'll be nominated and they don't."

Charles Fabb, saying he wanted to hold the meeting's length down as much as possible, said he would give no personal history.

A candidate for treasurer, the office he now holds, he pointed to his record. "The treasurer's office has shown a profit each year of my incumbency," he said.

His candidacy was based on his belief in "economy and performance of duty," he said. "The treasurer's office has shown a profit each year of my incumbency," he said.

After a short question period, during which Weade prodded his opponent, Chairman Bush called the meeting adjourned.

It was explained that the meeting was non-partisan and that the Farm Bureau and its legislative committee had endorsed no candidates and would take no position on the school issue.

Other members of the committee which helped plan the meeting, are Frank Sollars, Edwin Buck, John Morgan, Barton Montgomery, Jerry Dray, Lewis Redd, Roscoe Duff, Glen Davis, Dick Babb and Carl Janes.

ant W. J. Hilty, failed to perform the duties imposed by Section 3311.30 of the Revised Code within the time provided by law in that said Board failed to authorize a member of the Fayette County School District Board of Education to serve as a delegate to a convention to be held at the County Seat of Fayette County; that said Defendant, Board of Education, likewise failed to select a member from each of the Defendant, Miami Trace Local School District Board of Education, the Defendant, Jefferson Local School District Board of Education, the Defendant, Bloomington Local School District Board of Education, and the Defendant, Paint Local School District Board of Education, to serve as delegates to said convention, upon the failure of said Local School Districts Boards of Education to authorize one of their own members to serve as a delegate to said convention; and that said Fayette County School District Board of Education failed to cause its Clerk and Superintendent, Defendant, W. J. Hilty, to fix a time for the holding of such convention. Plaintiffs further say that said Defendants having failed to perform these duties in accordance with law are subject to the jurisdiction of this Court under the provisions of 3311.35 of the Revised Code of Ohio which directs that this Court, upon being advised and satisfied of the failure of said Defendants to perform the duties imposed by law, shall act as such Board and perform all duties imposed upon such Board.

Plaintiffs further say that by reason of the failure of the Defendant, Fayette County School District Board of Education, together with its Superintendent and Clerk, Defendant, W. J. Hilty, to perform their duties imposed by law, the Defendants, Miami Trace Local School District Board of Education, Washington C. H. City School District Board of Education, Bloomington Local School District Board of Education, Jefferson Local School District Board of Education, and Paint Local School District Board of Education failed to perform the duties imposed upon each of said Defendant Boards of Education in that each of said Defendant Boards of Education failed to authorize one of its members to serve as a delegate to a convention which shall be held at the County Seat of Fayette County as required by law. Plaintiffs further say that said Defendant Local and City Boards of Education having failed to perform the duties imposed by law, and the Defendant, Fayette County Board of Education having failed to perform said duties for said Local School District Boards of Education, are subject to the jurisdiction of this Court under the provisions of Section 3313.85 of the Revised Code which direct this Court, upon being advised and satisfied of the failure of said Defendant, Local, City, and County Boards of Education to perform the duties imposed by law, shall act as such Boards of Education and perform all duties imposed upon such Boards of Education.

Wherefore, Plaintiffs pray that this Court declare and determine that said Defendant, Local, City, and County Boards of Education, together with the Defendant, Clerk and Superintendent of said Fayette County Board of Education have failed to perform the duties imposed upon each of said Boards, respectively, under the provisions of Section 3311.30 of the Revised Code and thereupon, under the provisions of Section 3313.85 of the Revised Code, to grant the following relief:

(1) Declare that the local, city and county school districts of Fayette County are entitled to the creation of a County Citizens Committee as provided in Section 3311.30 of the Revised Code, and

(2) Authorize one member of each of said Defendant, Local, City and County Boards of Education to serve as a delegate to a convention which shall be held at the County Seat of Fayette County, and

(3) To order the holding of such convention and fix the time and place therefor, and

(4) To grant such other and further relief as may be necessary and appropriate to the accomplishment of the foregoing.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION
For their second cause of action, plaintiffs adopt the allegations contained in the preceding paragraphs of this petition and say further that on November 8, 1955 the electors of Paint Local School District, Bloomington Local School District, and Jefferson Local School District, all of Fayette County, Ohio, voted in an election on the specific proposition of a merger of said three local school districts and the result of said election vote was 888 against and 181 for said proposed merger.

Plaintiffs further say that, contrary to the will of the electorate, approximately 18 days later, to-wit: on or about the 26th day of November 8, 1955 the Defendant, Fayette County Board of Education adopted resolutions attempting and purporting to transfer all of the territory in said Paint Local School District, Jefferson Local School District and Bloomington Local School District, to said Miami Trace Local School District, also of Fayette County. Plaintiffs also say that the action of the Defendant, Fayette County Board of Education, attempting and purporting to transfer all of the territory in said three local school districts to the Miami Trace Local School District was null and void and of no effect inasmuch as said action was taken while there was pending before said Defendant, Fayette County Board of Education said Electors Petition for a County Citizens Committee. Plaintiffs also say that by failing to perform its duty to take action with reference to said Electors Petition for a County Citizens Committee and by endeavoring to terminate the existence of said Paint Local School District, Jefferson Local School District and Bloomington Local School District, through the transfer of all of the territory of said local school districts into the Miami Trace Local School District, the Defendant, Fayette County Board of Education acted contrary to the will of the electorate of said three local school districts as expressed in the election of November 8, 1955 and acted for the purpose of depriving the County Citizens Committee of its jurisdiction over said three local school districts as provided in Section 3311.30 Revised Code. Said Defendant, Fayette County Board of Education, by its actions as herein described and by failing to take action on said Electors Petition for a County Citizens Committee likewise attempted to deprive the voters of Fayette County, Ohio of their privilege of either approving or disapproving a plan of reorganization of the school districts of Fayette County in accordance with County Citizens Committee procedure as provided in Section 3311.31 Revised Code.

Wherefore, Plaintiffs pray this Court to declare and determine that the attempt to transfer all of the territory of the Paint Local School District, Jefferson Local School District and Bloomington Local School District, all of Fayette County, into the Miami Trace Local School District, also of Fayette County, was illegal and void and of no effect and that all subsequent actions pursuant to said transfer of the territory of said three local school districts into the Miami-Trace Local School District are likewise illegal and void and of no effect and for such other further relief as may be proper.

The petition was signed by Sam B. Marting of the Wilmington Road. His co-plaintiffs are:

Alfred Hagler of the Jamestown Road, James H. McWilliams of the Circleville Road, C. Preston Dray of the Old Springfield Road, V. F. Crawford of the Prairie Road, Col. C. Thornburg of 832 Millwood Avenue and Janice Sagar (Mrs. John Sagar, Sr.) of 630 Oakland Avenue.

The defendants are all six of the school boards in the county as they existed November 26, 1955, together with present members, former members who were on the boards last November and the boards' clerks.

The six boards of education which existed on that date were the Fayette County, Miami Trace, Bloomington, Paint, Jefferson and Washington C. H. boards.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My mother-in-law hasn't had her own home in 20 years. And two years ago she came to stay with us. She has no outside interests, and lives only for her five children and many grandchildren. Our three children are married now, and established elsewhere.

In all the time she has been with us, people who telephone to talk with her ask for her either as Grandmother, or Mother, or Jane—her first name. In the inner circle that is her life, she has no occasion to be called Mrs. Doe, by those who telephone our residence.

Even so, when the telephone rings and she answers it, and someone asks "Mrs. Doe?" she answers "Yes." Then the speaker goes into his or her subject, and when it's time for Mrs. Doe's response, Mother says, "Oh, I guess you want my daughter-in-law." She, too, is Mrs. Doe, I grant, but in the circumstances, shouldn't she identify herself as NOT the lady of the house, right off?

I would appreciate your comments; perhaps they will give all of us a hint on how to solve the problem. Fortunately there is no interference in our marriage as such; and even my husband, whom I adore, considers our partnership first.

K. P.

DEAR K. P.: It is safe to say that your mother-in-law knows she is sailing under false colors, momentarily, when she encourages a telephone voice to address her as (this) Mrs. Doe. But curiosity gets the best of her, I suppose, so she proceeds indirectly to elicit as much information as she can about the caller's purpose, before stepping aside.

A familiar trait of thoughtless elderly persons, whose life narrows down to family, has to do with wanting to keep posted on everybody's business in the household. And most people instinctively clam up, or back away, in the presence of busy inquisitiveness. Hence the elderly person's hunger for vicarious sharing of others' experience may present a behavior problem.

In general, the wholesome way to reduce irritations in family life is to "spot" the trouble, in friendly spirit. Don't skulk around it. Thus about the telephone, you might say, for example: "Mother, it bothers me when you take calls as Mrs. Doe, and then I have to step up and go through the whole story again. It happens all the time; and it isn't fair to people who are trying to reach the housewife at this address. It puts us all in bad humor; gets us off on the wrong foot," etc. Then ask her to identify herself as "the other Mrs. Doe" when the question comes up.

Prosecution Raps Ohio Dope Law

CLEVELAND (AP)—A law enforcement official here says Ohio's new narcotic law, which provides penalties ranging up to life imprisonment, is weighted too heavily against "the little guy who can't help himself."

Criticizing the law passed last summer was Chief Assistant County Prosecutor Saul S. Danaceau who said forcing addicts to "rot in jail" is no solution to the drug problem.

The captains and 16 crewmen were confined to their boats in Ashtabula Harbor Thursday night, under surveillance of Customs officials.

New Ejection Seat Readied For Jet

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A new type safety ejection seat is being readied for the world's fastest fighter plane, a Lockheed test pilot says. Tony LeVier said the seat is "top secret" but added that "the pilot will have a protective covering" when he ejects himself from the F104 Starfighter, which has flown at more than 1,000 m.p.h.

Ohio CD Leaders To Hold Parley

COLUMBUS (AP)—Recent developments within the Soviet Union and their implications for Ohio defense will be the main topic of discussion Saturday and Sunday at a meeting here of Civil Defense leaders.

Maj. Gen. Leo M. Kreber, Ohio civil defense director, said approximately 1,000 national, state and local military and civil defense officials are expected to attend the two-day conference.

Mississippi Mud Is Big Problem

Top Soil Washes In From 31 States

By GROVER BRINKMAN
POINT A LA HACHE, La.—Fanning out from this tiny "land's end" port is a fast-growing double chin that hardly delights Uncle Sam. This doublechin is the accumulated topsoil of 31 states the muddy Mississippi river dumps at its mouth.

Each year this double-chin mushrooms further out into the gulf stream. It builds up, foot by foot, a flat, treeless muck that is neither land nor water.

The United States Corps of Engineers estimates that more than a mile of earth has been dumped into the gulf at the river's mouth for some 50 years.

That isn't all. Captains of incoming boats say they can spot the "Mississippi mud stream" miles at sea. Like a giant underwater geyser, this muddy water pushes into the natural blue of the gulf stream resembling the pollution of a gigantic sewer.

It's all good earth—topsoil—from farms in Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Missouri and all river-states down-stream.

FROM MINNESOTA to Louisiana, the Mississippi twists and turns on a 2,343-mile journey to the gulf. Each time this gigantic watershed is subject of a goodsized rain, the river claims some more of the bread-basket's fine, black topsoil. Despite talk of soil conservation and river control, no one has done much about it.

The Corp of Engineers would gladly give back to the farmers every shovelful of the black gumbo the Mississippi had deposited at its mouth.

For one thing, it's a multi-billion dollar headache to them. Keeping the ship channels open to the gulf is quite a task. The river keeps piling up sediment at the mouth about as fast as the engineers can deepen the channel.

In fact, steering an incoming freighter to New Orleans from the open gulf is such a complex process that only a handful of seasoned harbor pilots undertake it. They have to plot the course of the boat until it is in the river proper.

THE MISSISSIPPI roughly drains 41 percent of the nation. Each tributary that flows into it, including the mighty Missouri, are "yellow streams", in the vernacular of the river men—rivers full of sediment from erosive action on rich topsoil in their watershed.

Recently, while one of the Mississippi's tributaries, the Kaskaskia, was at flood-stage, water samples were taken, to determine the degree of sedimentation. The results were a bit amazing—one percent of the flood water was black earth.

The conservationists went a step further. Using the river's dimensions and depth as a basis, they determined that in a single day, the river at flood stage carried toward the gulf soil equivalent to a six-inch layer off 160 acres of land. That's the story of just one of the Mississippi's "feeder" streams. There are hundreds in its watershed.

The solution? Only one thing even approaches an answer: more rigid conservation practices, contour farming, forest restoration, flood control, so the "run-off" water is slowed down to a pace where it drops its sediment before it reaches the river. Engineers agree that this "dream" is plausible, workable—but still years in the future. In the meantime, the finest topsoil of the midwest continues to float away.

PERHAPS if an Iowa corn farmer, an Illinois wheat grower, or even a Minnesota Dairyman would ride one of the incoming boats through Southwest pass, heading up river, and see for them selves the spreading "fan" of good dirt belching out into the blue gulf, they might spread the alarm more effectively.

The new land that mushrooms out into the gulf at the river's mouth is flat, treeless, swampy. It's dangerous terrain, shunned by man, even the Cajon trappers who live at this "point of the axe" section of the United States.

One of the living things which share its desolation is the pelican, Louisiana's state bird. Huge flocks of these ungainly birds roam the mucky flats. And in season, ducks and geese by the thousands find refuge in this giant wasteland.

The trappers work these fingers of land from their boats, to snare the muskrats that form their livelihood—but outside of their lonely huts on an equally lonely bayou, the area is a forgotten frontier.

Double chins are never popular, and this one, besides its unpopularity, is quite expensive.

Which Sheraton Hotel, Please?

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The Sheraton-Hefferson Hotel has contacted taxicab and airline bus companies asking them to please ask passengers which "Sheraton" hotel they want.

The confusion began in January. The Sheraton hotel became the Coronado and the Jefferson became the Sheraton-Jefferson after a change of ownership.

Singer Dennis Day was settled in a room at the Coronado the other day when he asked which hotel a shoe convention dinner at which he was to sing would be held. He was in the wrong hotel.

'Oiled' Machine Spurts Flames

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Joe Greer, deputy district railroad commission supervisor, picked up a can and oiled his calculating machine.

A few minutes later, two-foot flames leaped from it. Greer found he had picked up a can of lighter fluid instead of oil. Damage was minor.

Double chins are never popular, and this one, besides its unpopularity, is quite expensive.

Parents To Refuse Blood Transfusion

CALGARY, Alta. (AP)—The father of Judy Maddison, 5-year-old girl on her way to the Mayo Clinic with a rare heart condition, says he and his wife will not permit a blood transfusion for their daughter even if doctors recommend it.

night his wife is a lifelong member of the Jehovah's Witnesses, which opposes blood transfusion, and he has been attending the church for five months.

"I'm not too well read up about it, but the Bible definitely is against giving blood," Maddison said. "On that basis we can't allow the transfusion if it's needed."

The clinic is in Rochester, Minn.

3 Canadian Fishing Boats Held By U. S.

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP)—Three Canadian fishing boat captains, who surrendered their ships to an Ohio patrol boat on Lake Erie, face charges in Ashtabula Municipal Court today.

The Canadians were caught Thursday taking fish in American waters 10 miles off Ashtabula. Supervisor Bill Farley of the Ohio Wildlife Division said.

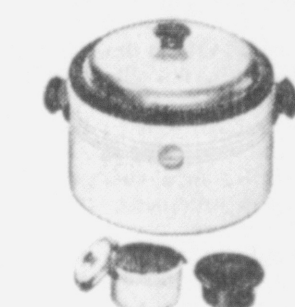

Farley, who commanded game wardens on the Ohio patrol boat, said his crew fired one shot to stop one of the Canadian tugs from fleeing to home waters.

He said the shot was fired over the South Side out of Port Berwell, Ont., and its captain, Cecil Martin, will be charged with resisting arrest in addition to the fishing violations.

The other captains are Jack Powell, of the C. F. Harrell, also out of Port Berwell, and Jim MacDonald, of the Ferrocilad, out of Port Stanley, Ont. They are charged with fishing with illegal nets, and possession of fish caught in illegal nets.

The Ohioans confiscated seven tons of fish, which will be distributed to state and welfare institutions, Farley said.

The captains and 16 crewmen were confined to their boats in Ashtabula Harbor Thursday night, under surveillance of Customs officials.

In fact, steering an incoming freighter to New Orleans from the open gulf is such a complex process that only a handful of seasoned harbor pilots undertake it. They're out to meet the incoming traffic, to plot the course of the boat until it is in the river proper.

THE MISSISSIPPI roughly drains 41 percent of the nation. Each tributary that flows into it, including the mighty Missouri, are "yellow streams", in the vernacular of the river men—rivers full of sediment from erosive action on rich topsoil in their watersheds.

Recently, while one of the Mississippi's tributaries, the Kaskaskia, was at flood-stage, water samples were taken, to determine the degree of sedimentation. The results were a bit amazing—one percent of the flood water was black earth.

The conservationists went a step further. Using the river's dimensions and depth as a basis, they determined that in a single day, the river at flood stage carried toward the gulf soil equivalent to a six-inch layer off 160 acres of land. That's the story of just one of the Mississippi's "feeder" streams. There are hundreds in its watershed.

The solution? Only one thing even approaches an answer: more rigid conservation practices, contour farming, forest restoration, flood control, so the "run-off" water is slowed down to a pace where it drops its sediment before it reaches the river. Engineers agree that this "dream" is plausible, workable—but still years in the future. In the meantime, the finest topsoil of the midwest continues to float away.

PERHAPS if an Iowa corn farmer, an Illinois wheat grower, or even a Minnesota Dairyman would ride one of the incoming boats through Southwest pass, heading up river, and see for them selves the spreading "fan" of good dirt belching out into the blue gulf, they might spread the alarm more effectively.

The new land that mushrooms out into the gulf at the river's mouth is flat, treeless, swampy. It's dangerous terrain, shunned by man, even the Cajon trappers who live at this "point of the axe" section of the United States.

One of the living things which share its desolation is the pelican. Louisiana's state bird. Huge flocks of these ungainly birds roam the mucky flats. And in season, ducks and geese by the thousands find refuge in this giant wasteland.

The trappers work these fingers of land from their boats, to snare the muskrats that form their livelihood—but outside of their lonely butts on an equally lonely bayou, the area is a forgotten frontier.

Double chins are never popular, and this one, besides its unpopularity, is quite expensive.

Which Sheraton Hotel, Please?

ST. LOUIS (P)—The Sheraton-Jefferson Hotel has contacted taxicab and airline bus companies asking them to please ask passengers which "Sheraton" hotel they want.

The confusion began in January. The Sheraton hotel became the Coronado and the Jefferson became the Sheraton-Jefferson after a change of ownership.

Singer Dennis Day was settled in a room at the Coronado the other day when he asked where in the hotel a shoe convention dinner at which he was to sing would be held. He was in the wrong hotel.

'Oiled' Machine Spurts Flames

MIDLAND, Tex. (P)—Joe Greer, deputy district railroad commission supervisor, picked up a can and oiled his calculating machine. A few minutes later, two-foot flames leaped from it. Greer found he had picked up a can of lighter fluid instead of oil. Damage was minor.

Parents To Refuse Blood Transfusion

CALGARY, Alta. (P)—The father of Judy Maddison, 5-year-old girl on her way to the Mayo Clinic with a rare heart condition, says he and his wife will not permit a blood transfusion for their daughter even if doctors recommend it.

Bill Maddison, 31, said Thursday night his wife is a lifelong member of the Jehovah's Witnesses, which opposes blood transfusion, and he has been attending the church for five months.

"I'm not too well read up about it, but the Bible definitely is against giving blood," Maddison said. "On that basis we can't allow the transfusion if it's needed." The clinic is in Rochester, Minn.

One Business Man's Views On Job-Seekers

A local business man, talking with us a few days ago, asserted that hunting for willing workers to fill responsible jobs was becoming more of a problem with many business men than it used to be.

He declared that too many applicants show greater interest in shorter hours with top salaries and plenty of vacation and "off days" than in any anxiety about taking a job to "make good" at it.

Of course, he admitted, not all applicants are of this questionable calibre but the ones who say they want jobs and then insist that the job must be tailored to their liking, are in the majority, he insisted.

We wonder if his views are the same as a majority of business men or has he been unlucky in the type of people who have applied to his firm for work.

At any rate, during this conversation with him, he handed over a clipping and said that he hoped we would print it because, in his opinion, it expressed what the average employer is looking for when he needs a capable and reliable employee.

The clipping reads sensibly and we are glad to reprint it. Under the heading "Wanted A Man", it says:

"A man who can find things to be done without the help of a manager and three assistants.

"A man who gets to work on time in the morning and does not imperil the lives of others in the attempt to be the first to quit work at night.

"A man who is neat in appearance and does not sulk because of an hour overtime in emergencies.

"A man who listens carefully when he is spoken to and asks only enough questions to insure the accurate carrying out of instructions.

"A man who looks you straight in the eye and tells the truth every time.

"A man who does not pity himself for having to work.

"A man who is cheerful, courteous to everyone and always determines to make good.

"A man who, when he does not know, says, 'I don't know,' and when he is asked to do anything says, 'I'll try.'"

On Care Of Bulls And Bears

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—I met an interesting fellow the other day. He wasn't in the stock market.

You hardly run into that kind of person any more. At least not in my circle.

Practically everyone I seem to meet now is "in the market." So is his brother. So is his grandmother.

Baseball used to be the national pastime. Today the stock market is. You play baseball. But nobody admits he plays the market. It's not cricket to use that term. You don't play the market. You are just "in it."

Who really is in the market? Well, I know a mechanic who is. I know several waiters who are. I know several stenographers who are. A lady who used to come and help my wife do sewing is. So is the masseuse my wife visits occasionally when she gets a twinge in her neckbone.

In fact, it is probably easier to name those of your acquaintance who aren't in the market than to list those who are. Wall Street has become the real Main Street of America to millions.

Now, don't get me wrong. I have nothing against the stock market as an avenue to either security or wealth. I don't regard it a devil's trap for the unwary, nor do I feel that anyone who invests in it is a gambler riding a hand wagon to his own ruin. All I ask is that those who are getting rich in it would just do so quietly.

But they don't. It isn't enough that they own stocks. They insist that you have to get into the market, too. Presumably, they feel that if everyone buys stocks all the stocks will go on up and up and we'll all be rich together.

The biggest objection I have to the stock market is not that I don't know how to get rich in it (if I did, I would) but that it has done more to ruin the art of conversation than anything except television.

The shop talk of the stock market, once limited to stock brokers and a limited class of customers, now is the shop talk of everyone from bricklayer to banker.

I don't understand the terms. The care and feeding of the bulls and bears is of limited interest to me. I'm not sure of the difference between a long-term capital gain, and an off-tackle smash with the fullback carrying the ball. To me a "blue chip" is still something I toss into the poker pot when I'm holding four queens.

You can't get away from the stock market. If you're reading the sports page in the subway, the guy reading over your shoulder asks, "would you mind turning to the business section? I want to see how Amalgamated Tiddlywinks is doing."

You go to a party and say, "It looks like rain tomorrow," and a bystander breaks in and inquires, "How do you think that will affect Coagulated Copper?"

Coming home recently after an evening of such conversation, I told my wife, "Wasn't it boring?"

I'm glad I don't own a share of stock.

"What makes you think you don't, Rover?" replied Frances, who handles the family budget. Then she retreated into silence.

Is it possible to be in the stock market and not even know it?

Just Normal Procedure, Judge!

By George Sokolsky

Federal Judge W. D. Murray of Montana, son of Senator James Murray, got himself quite excited over a news release issued by the FBI, and relating to one, John Cyril Hellman, who was stated in the news release to be "one of the leading communists in Montana and Idaho." Judge Murray said of this:

"... I read in the paper a statement issued by J. Edgar Hoover as to certain facts, or at least what he claims to be facts, with reference to this case. I can only say that such statements by the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are wrong, they are not in accord with the American principle of trial in a court, and I condemn in the strongest terms possible the issuance of statements by police officials or investigation officers with reference to the facts of a case, presenting them to the public in an effort, apparently, to try the case outside of court. If this case had been in my division, immediately that I saw such a statement, Mr. Hoover and his agents would have been called before me to account for such un-American, unfair tactics, and so I say to you, and to all the public that Mr. Hoover's statements as to facts are not before this court, and the court makes no decision upon anything Mr. Hoover may believe, whether they be true or not. The place to present those facts is in court, and let him be advised of it."

This then is a new doctrine of secrecy, namely, that when an arrest is made, the arresting agency should make no statement that an arrest has been made and for what reasons. According to Judge Murray, arrests should be of the nature of letters de cachet, in secret.

Hellman was arrested at 7:04 A. M. in Butte, Montana. The announcement of his arrest was made in Washington, D. C., at 9:12 A. M., about eight minutes after the arrest, the difference in time between Washington and Butte being two hours.

Hellman was the 139th person indicted under the Smith Act and each time such an arrest or any other arrest is made by the FBI an announcement of the facts is made, the attitude of the agency and its director, J. Edgar Hoover that is is not engaged in secret arrests.

It would appear from Judge Murray's complaint, which was interpolated in his decision dealing with a motion to reduce bail, that his objection is to matters being discussed outside the courtroom which should be discussed only in the courtroom.

But a statement that an arrest has been made and for what reason, to the press, is normal procedure in the United States and is sanctioned by tradition and public opinion. The FBI release simply stated among other things:

"Hellman was arrested on the basis of a federal warrant issued in Great Falls, Montana, April 4, 1956. He is charged with violation of the membership section of the Smith Act which makes it illegal to be a member of the communist party knowing its aim to be the overthrow of the United States Government by force and violence. The penalties for this violation are a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than ten years, or both."

It is unbelievable that Judge Murray found this objectionable. Would he, Judge Murray, have made a similar complaint if the arrested person were a kidnapper or an extortionist or a counterfeiter or any criminal except a communist? Yet, Hellman is reported to have said in a speech in 1951 that the Korean conflict was "mass murder on the part of the United States." Without reflecting upon Judge Murray's integrity, it would appear that as long as the Smith Act is the law of the land, procedures concerning arrests under it should be handled like any others.

There is a continuing tendency in this country in favor of secrecy — secrecy about the conduct of government, secrecy about the conduct of foreign relations, secrecy about government documents. What Judge Murray is discussing is secrecy of arrests, a very dangerous procedure, antagonistic to the Constitution, particularly the 4th, 5th, 6th, 8th, and 14th Amendments, all of which deal with the rights of persons under the law and all of which are antagonistic to the concept to secrecy in relationship to those rights. It would seem that the Judge talked too quickly.

Ed Schorr Labeled 'Invisible Boss' Of GOP In Ohio

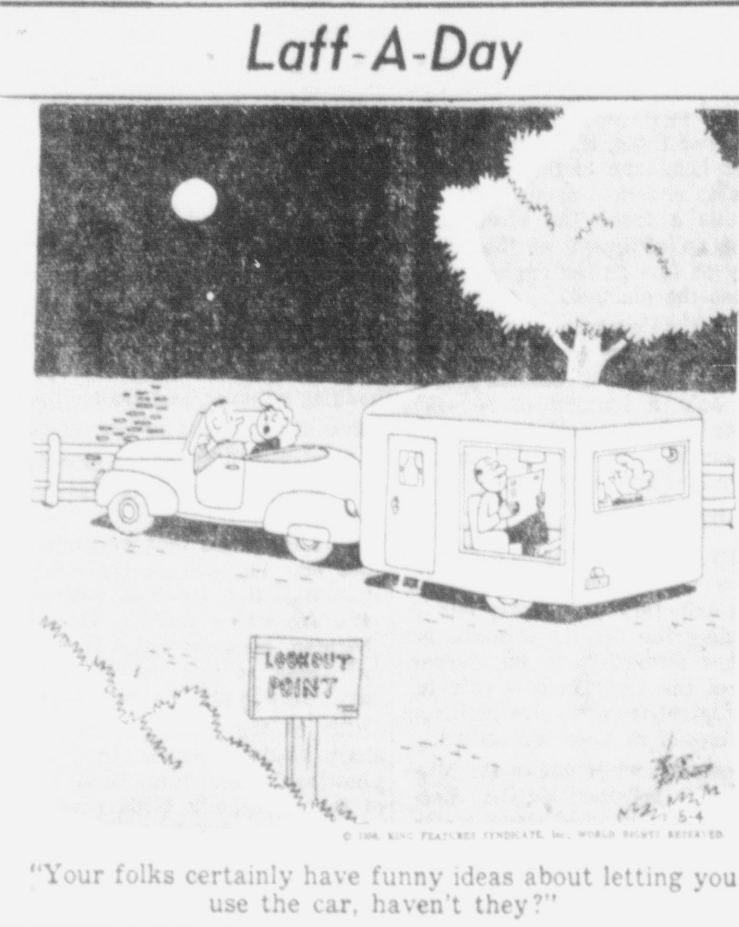

MEDINA (AP)—Lt. Gov. John W. Brown has labeled Ed Schorr of Cincinnati as the "invisible boss of the Republican party."

Brown, who is opposing C. William O'Neill for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, said Schorr "feels that the election of my opponent will once again return him to statewide power."

He declared that Schorr's followers are trying "to rid themselves" of State Republican Chairman Ray Bliss. He said "Schorr is the type of political orge who becomes involved in backroom deals and willingly sells out his party for self gain."

Diet and Health

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Remember old Jack Spratt who would eat no fat? Well, I'll bet Jack was a pretty unhealthy specimen.

Like Jack, many persons try to avoid all fats in the belief they are harmful. But all of us need some fats.

All through your life, your body will need some fat. It has to have it for food energy and to help keep your body warm. Fat also helps keep protein from being used for energy purposes. And it helps in storing protein which your body needs every day.

Fatty Acids
Fats also contain unsaturated fatty acids, substances which your body needs, but which it cannot manufacture.

In a properly balanced diet, fat is easily digested. And, if eaten in moderate amounts, it does not interfere with the digestibility of other foods.

Some of us should eat more fat than others, but always in moderation. Age is often the determining factor.

Teenagers, for example, need more fats than do adults. They have much higher energy requirements.

Lack of fatty acids can cause a youngster's hair to become scaly, his hair to become dry and his nails to become brittle.

As we grow older, though, it's probably wise to cut down on the amount of fat we consume. Too much fat in the diet of an adult apparently has a direct bearing on gallbladder ailments, hardening of the arteries and other troubles.

Many foods, even lean prime steak, contain hidden fats. You even get fat in cheese and some vegetables. For the elderly, these fats may be enough.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
Mrs. G. P.: I am 70 years old and drink three quarts of milk daily. Will too much calcium from the milk hurt me?

Answer: Since excessive calcium is eliminated by the body, it is unlikely that drinking large amounts of milk will be harmful to you.

However, if you drink three quarts of milk daily, it may not be possible for you to eat all the other foods—such as fruits, vegetables, cereals and meat—necessary to make your diet well-balanced.

For this reason, it might be well to reduce the quantity of milk you are taking.

Military Reserve Program Working

WASHINGTON (AP)—The armed services have told Congress that its program to build up a trained 2,900,000-man reserve in five years is picking up speed.

Chairman Brooks (D-La.) of a House Armed Services subcommittee which called for the progress reports commented "we have reason to be proud of the progress which has been made."

He said he is especially pleased with a pickup in enlistments under a plan inaugurated last October allowing youths to sign up for six months active duty followed by 7½ years in an actively drilling reserve unit.

From now on it's the women who will elect the presidents, says a brisk young woman who is chairman of the 1956 election campaign committee of the Women's National Republican Club.

Jacqueline Gutwillig first became sold on the importance of public service during the war, when she was in Europe as a lieutenant colonel with the Department of Psychological Warfare, attached to Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters. Her husband, meanwhile, was a major in the Air Force, stationed in India.

Jacqueline puts in a full working day five days a week at the club headquarters in New York, cooperating with the party's local state and national committees and contacting all national women's organizations urging them to get their members out to register and vote.

"In the last presidential election, 52 per cent of the total voters were women," she says. "In the country there is a potential of two million more women voters than men. That's a big margin, and a big responsibility."

Young Mrs. Gutwillig has found political work exciting and engrossing, and urges more women to try it.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A psychiatric study says 20 per cent of the U.S. population may be suffering from "hidden epilepsy."

Many persons who have momentary mental blackouts or dimouts may be suffering from the disorder, Dr. Charles I. Yeager of the University of California said.

Fidgety children and adults who complain of nervous disorders are likely to have the ailment, he said. Mostly it is nondescript, but in some instances it can develop into little attacks of real epilepsy, he told the California Medical Assn.

Federal Judge W. D. Murray of Montana, son of Senator James Murray, got himself quite excited over a news release issued by the FBI, and relating to one, John Cyril Hellman, who was stated in the news release to be "one of the leading communists in Montana and Idaho." Judge Murray said of this:

"... I read in the paper a statement issued by J. Edgar Hoover as to certain facts, or at least what he claims to be facts, with reference to this case. I can only say that such statements by the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation are wrong, they are not in accord with the American principle of trial in a court, and I condemn in the strongest terms possible the issuance of statements by police officials or investigation officers with reference to the facts of a case, presenting them to the public in an effort, apparently, to try the case outside of court. If this case had been in my division, immediately that I saw such a statement, Mr. Hoover and his agents would have been called before me to account for such un-American, unfair tactics, and so I say to you, and to all the public that Mr. Hoover's statements as to facts are not before this court, and the court makes no decision upon anything Mr. Hoover may believe, whether they be true or not. The place to present those facts is in court, and let him be advised of it."

This then is a new doctrine of secrecy, namely, that when an arrest is made, the arresting agency should make no statement that an arrest has been made and for what reasons. According to Judge Murray, arrests should be of the nature of letters de cachet, in secret.

Hellman was arrested at 7:04 A. M. in Butte, Montana. The announcement of his arrest was made in Washington, D. C., at 9:12 A. M., about eight minutes after the arrest, the difference in time between Washington and Butte being two hours.

Hellman was the 139th person indicted under the Smith Act and each time such an arrest or any other arrest is made by the FBI an announcement of the facts is made, the attitude of the agency and its director, J. Edgar Hoover that is not engaged in secret arrests.

It would appear from Judge Murray's complaint, which was interpolated in his decision dealing with a motion to reduce bail, that his objection is to matters being discussed outside the courtroom which should be discussed only in the courtroom.

But a statement that an arrest has been made and for what reason, to the press, is normal procedure in the United States and is sanctioned by tradition and public opinion. The FBI release simply stated among other things:

"Hellman was arrested on the basis of a federal warrant issued in Great Falls, Montana, April 4, 1956. He is charged with violation of the membership section of the Smith Act which makes it illegal to be a member of the communist party knowing its aim to be the overthrow of the United States Government by force and violence. The penalties for this violation are a fine of not more than $10,000 or imprisonment for not more than ten years, or both."

It is unbelievable that Judge Murray found this objectionable. Would he, Judge Murray, have made a similar complaint if the

arrested person were a kidnapper or an extortionist or a counterfeiter or any criminal except a communist? Yet, Hellman is reported to have said in a speech in 1951 that the Korean conflict was "mass murder on the part of the United States." Without reflecting upon Judge Murray's integrity, it would appear that as long as the Smith Act is the law of the land, procedures concerning arrests under it should be handled like any others.

There is a continuing tendency in this country in favor of secrecy — secrecy about the conduct of government, secrecy about the conduct of foreign relations, secrecy about government documents. What Judge Murray is discussing is secrecy of arrests, a very dangerous procedure, antagonistic to the Constitution, particularly the 4th, 5th, 6th, 8th, and 14th Amendments, all of which deal with the rights of persons under the law and all of which are antagonistic to the concept to secrecy in relationship to those rights. It would seem that the Judge talked too quickly.

Ed Schorr Labeled 'Invisible Boss' Of GOP In Ohio

MEDINA (AP)—Lt. Gov. John W. Brown has labeled Ed Schorr of Cincinnati as the "invisible boss of the Republican party."

Brown, who is opposing C. William O'Neill for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, said Schorr "feels that the election of my opponent will once again return him to statewide power."

He declared that Schorr's followers are trying "to rid themselves" of State Republican Chairman Ray Bliss. He said "Schorr is the type of political orge who becomes involved in backroom deals and willingly sells out his party for self gain."

Diet and Health

Some Fat Needed In Your Daily Diet

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN
Remember old Jack Spratt who would eat no fat? Well, I'll bet Jack was a pretty unhealthy specimen.

Like Jack, many persons try to avoid all fats in the belief they are harmful. But all of us need some fats.

All through your life, your body will need some fat. It has to have it for food energy and to help keep your body warm. Fat also helps keep protein from being used for energy purposes. And it helps in storing protein which your body needs every day.

Fatty Acids

Fats also contain unsaturated fatty acids, substances which your body needs, but which it cannot manufacture.

In a properly balanced diet, fat is easily digested. And, if eaten in moderate amounts, it does not interfere with the digestibility of other foods.

Some of us should eat more fat than others, but always in moderation. Age is often the determining factor.

Teenagers, for example, need more fats than do adults. They have much higher energy requirements.

Lack of fatty acids can cause a youngster's skin to become scaly, his hair to become dry and his nails to become brittle.

As we grow older, though, it's probably wise to cut down on the amount of fat we consume. Too much fat in the diet of an adult apparently has a direct bearing on gallbladder ailments, hardening of the arteries and other troubles.

Many foods, even lean prime steak, contain hidden fats. You even get fat in cheese and some vegetables. For the elderly, these fats may be enough.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Mrs. G. P.: I am 70 years old and drink three quarts of milk daily. Will too much calcium from the milk hurt me?

Answer: Since excessive calcium is eliminated by the body, it is unlikely that drinking large amounts of milk will be harmful to you.

However, if you drink three quarts of milk daily, it may not be possible for you to eat all the other foods—such as fruits, vegetables, cereals and meat—necessary to make your diet well-balanced.

For this reason, it might be well to reduce the quantity of milk you are taking.

Military Reserve Program Working

WASHINGTON (AP)—The armed services have told Congress that its program to build up a trained 2,900,000-man reserve in five years is picking up speed.

Chairman Brooks (D-La.) of a House Armed Services subcommittee which called for the progress reports commented "we have reason to be proud of the progress which has been made."

He said he is especially pleased with a pickup in enlistments under a plan inaugurated last October allowing youths to sign up for six months active duty followed by 7½ years in an actively drilling reserve unit.

Women To Elect Presidents, Woman GOPster Convinced

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
From now on it's the women who will elect the presidents, says a brisk young woman who is chairman of the 1956 election campaign committee of the Women's National Republican Club.

Jacqueline Gutwillig first became sold on the importance of public service during the war, when she was in Europe as a lieutenant colonel with the Department of Psychological Warfare, attached to Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters. Her husband, meanwhile, was a major in the Air Force, stationed in India.

Jacqueline puts in a full working day five days a week at the club headquarters in New York, cooperating with the party's local, state and national committees and contacting all national women's organizations urging them to get their members out to register and vote.

"In the last presidential election, 52 per cent of the total voters were women," she says. "In the country there is a potential of two million more women voters than men. That's a big margin, and a big responsibility."

Young Mrs. Gutwillig has found political work exciting and engrossing, and urges more women to try it.

"If you've never done anything of the sort before," she says, "the way to start is to go to the local district leader or club of the party of your choice."

"You may be sure you will be greeted with enthusiasm and gratitude, and will be given all the work you have time or energy for. Political organizations need all the intelligent women workers

You Need The Church-The Church Needs You

Do Church People Live Here?

When we view this beautiful house with its elegant architectural lines, we are compelled to wonder... "whose house is that? Who was the builder? Do church people live there?" Perhaps it is a home?

It has been well said, "It takes a heap of living in a house to make it home." God is only interested in the kind of living it shelters... wholesome living, if you please. The Almighty wants all homes to be shelter in the time of storm; a haven of happiness and peace where His will is supreme; a place where love abounds and greedy selfishness is unknown.

Architects design houses. Builders put them together. But only the Lord of all the earth builds homes. Through teachings embodied in the church she challenges humanity to "drink of the waters of life and live"... live the wholesome kind of living which only is pleasing in His sight.

The church pictures to humanity the world's greatest designer of living... Jesus Christ, the Son of God. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it," Psalms 127:1. Home implies mutual affection, gentleness, meekness, refinement, and a genuine forbearance. Who lives in the house you occupy? Are its occupants Christian or non-Christian? Have you asked the Lord to help build you a home? Attend your church regularly.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we ask our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. You in the Church and the Church in you form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

WSCS Circles Combine For Annual Event

The combined circles of the Jeffersonville WSCS assembled at the Methodist Church in Jeffersonville for the annual Mother-Daughter luncheon, with 75 members and guests present.

Mrs. Marvin Stockwell was chairman of the luncheon and was assisted by a committee of members of each circle.

The tables were effectively decorated with spring flowers and Miss Mary Ann Creamer, accordionist and Miss Sara Sue Davidson at the piano furnished beautiful music during the luncheon hour.

The program prepared by Mrs. Warren Williams was enjoyed immediately following the luncheon and she used as her topic "Between Dawn and Dust".

She opened by reading the poem "Dawn" by Lona McDorman, and read Scripture from Proverbs which was followed with prayer by Mrs. Albert Vannorsdall.

The hymn "Faith Of Our Mothers" was sung by the group and Mrs. Harold Zimmerman welcomed the members and guests with Mrs. Harold Klever making the response.

Miss Creamer and Miss Davidson presented a musical number "The Old Spinning Wheel" and Mrs. Ray Shoemaker gave lovely corsages to the youngest mother. Mrs. Keith Zimmerman, the oldest grandmother, Mrs. Mae Rideout, youngest grandmother, Mrs. Ance Creamer, the grandmother with the most grandchildren, Mrs. Louise Kessler, and the two youngest great-grandmothers, Mrs. Eugene Heironimus and Mrs. Mary James.

Mrs. Williams read the poem "Happy Mother's Day" and Mrs. Joe Tudor's poem was titled "The Old Red Plush Album".

A tribute to Mothers was given by Miss Louise Fuits, "Mothers by Proxy" was given by Mrs. Ance Creamer, and Mrs. Charles Seibert read "Bless This House".

The group joined Mrs. Williams in the praying of the Lord's Prayer, who also read the poem "Mother" in unison, and the program closed with the singing of a hymn.

The short business session followed with Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, presiding, which included the usual reports and she closed with the reading of a short poem entitled "A Little Wish To All".

DAR Plans Annual Meeting

Members of the Washington Court House Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will meet at 2 P. M. Monday, May 7 in Fellowship Hall, Grace Methodist Church.

This meeting is known as the annual meeting held for the purpose of electing officers and receiving reports and is a closed meeting.

A Memorial service for departed members will be held and the business session will be conducted by the regent, Mrs. John D. Forsythe.

WSCS Circles Combine For Annual Event

The combined circles of the Jeffersonville WSCS assembled at the Methodist Church in Jeffersonville for the annual Mother-Daughter luncheon, with 75 members and guests present.

Mrs. Marvin Stockwell was chairman of the luncheon and was assisted by a committee of members of each circle.

The tables were effectively decorated with spring flowers and Miss Mary Ann Creamer, accordionist and Miss Sara Sue Davidson at the piano furnished beautiful music during the luncheon hour.

The program prepared by Mrs. Warren Williams was enjoyed immediately following the luncheon and she used as her topic "Between Dawn and Dust".

She opened by reading the poem "Dawn" by Lona McDorman, and read Scripture from Proverbs which was followed with prayer by Mrs. Albert Vannorsdall.

The hymn "Faith Of Our Mothers" was sung by the group and Mrs. Harold Zimmerman welcomed the members and guests with Mrs. Harold Klever making the response.

Miss Creamer and Miss Davidson presented a musical number "The Old Spinning Wheel" and Mrs. Ray Shoemaker gave lovely corsages to the youngest mother, Mrs. Keith Zimmerman, the oldest grandmother, Mrs. Mae Rideout, youngest grandmother, Mrs. Ancel Creamer, the grandmother with the most grandchildren, Mrs. Louise Kessler, and the two youngest great-grandmothers, Mrs. Eugene Heironimus and Mrs. Mary James.

Mrs. Williams read the poem "Happy Mother's Day" and Mrs. Joe Tudor's poem was titled "The Old Red Plush Album".

A tribute to Mothers was given by Miss Louise Fultz, "Mothers by Proxy" was given by Mrs. Ancel Creamer, and Mrs. Charles Seibert read "Bless This House".

The group joined Mrs. Williams in the praying of the Lord's Prayer, who also read the poem "Mother" in unison, and the program closed with the singing of a hymn.

The short business session followed with Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, presiding, which included the usual reports and she closed with the reading of a short poem entitled "A Little Wish To All".

Earth-Quaking Volcanoes Are Being Studied

Mysteries Probed
By Scientists In South Sea Islands

By ARTHUR SCHOLLES
AUCKLAND, New Zealand.—Government volcanologists are probing a mysterious series of earthtremors and blasts which are thought to have originated among the great snow-capped peaks of Tongararo National Park.

Residents and farmers reported the blasts and tremors over a 100-mile radius.

Geologists think that a fault may have developed in a portion of the earth's crust in the southern highlands of New Zealand.

In its simplest form a fault is a fracture in the earth along which there is movement, so that one
wall shifts relative to the other.
The larger the shift the more violent is the earthquake.

New Zealand geologists cannot explain the cause of the latest faulting or shifting satisfactorily, but some of them believe that earthquakes are set off by the pull of the sun and moon on the earth.

If this hypothesis is correct, a passing storm, a high tide, relatively small amounts of material washed from a mountain and added to deposits that have accumulated for centuries may have upset the equilibrium of delicately poised strata.

Wherever high mountains and ocean depths exist side by side, as in New Zealand, Japan and

Spirit of Dixie Will Never Die Deep in the Heart of Texas

Luncheon at Camp Ben McCullough. At the head of the table sits Joe

By MARY STARR BARKLEY
AUSTIN, Tex.—Soon, it will be
"camp meeting" time in Texas.
Springtime sees clean-up camp-meets at the sites of these meetings.

There is one of these spots in the heart of Texas where Dixie will never die, because for nearly a century reunions have gone on at Camp Ben McCullough. This camp has been the meeting place for an annual reunion of the Confederate veterans, their sons later, and now their grandsons.

It is one of the largest Confederate camp meeting sites in the south, and its adherents own their own reunion tract, a 40-acre site on Onion Creek, near the town of Kyle.

Nearby is buried their bugler, Joseph Cruze, buried in his beloved Confederate gray, and his son today is commander of the camp.

It is proper that their meeting place should be in Hays County, because that county reputedly sent more men to the war than any other Texas county. When they came home after the defeat of Dixie, these men from Hood's Brigade, the Mountain Penman Brigade and Terry's Texas Brigade met annually.

IN 1896, they bought this permanent campsite naming it for a general who fought for Texas at San Jacinto.

Always, these old soldiers meeting annually planned to perpetuate their reunions into the future, so that Dixie would never die, and one of them was always commander until 1938 when their last surviving veteran was Burl Nash, an Oklahoma Indian.

So, they deeded their camp to their sons to carry on for them.
The bugler's son, Joe Cruze, says the recent tremors, sports-loving New Zealanders still are flocking to the highlands to pit their might against the challenging peaks.

Sir Edmund Hillary, conqueror of Everest, and George Lowe, a companion on that expedition, trained their dog-teams in the southern snowfields for their expedition to the Antarctic.

pate in the British Commonwealth expedition to cross the 2,000-mile Antarctic continent from west to east.

that the time has come now to deed the camp meeting site to their own sons to carry on, and so they are deeding it to the grandsons of the old Confederates.

Established as a permanent meeting place in 1896, the camp furnishes electric lights, running water, swimming, shade trees barbecue pits and a dance pavilion for the campers who come in the summer time. Always, one week in July, during "the light of the moon," is reserved for the sons and grandsons of the old Confederates. There are no admission fees, no political-ing, no tickets, no soliciting.

Former Student Says She Needed Paddling She Got

MCCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (U-P)—A former pupil of Jack Eberle told a school board hearing Thursday she deserved the paddling she received from the 25-year-old Eberle.

Eberle is fighting his dismissal
from his job as English instructor
in the high school at nearby
Deavertown. He is charged with paddling five of his 15-year-old girl pupils and teaching the Bible
in class contrary to school rules.

The former pupil, Rachel Lewis,
who transferred to another school
shortly after Eberle's dismissal,
said:

"There wasn't very much discipline (in Eberle's class.) I had a habit of talking out loud whenever I wanted to. I guess it was just a habit but I wanted to see how far I could get without getting a paddling."

Although peacock meat is dry
and tasteless, it was often eaten
during the Middle Ages.

Letters To Editor

Washington C. H., Ohio
April 2, 1956

Editor
Record-Herald
Dear Sir:

Since April 30th has come and gone without an acceptance of the invitation extended by the RPA to meet jointly with the Miami Trace Board the Miami Trace Fact Finders and the Washington C. H.
Board of Education, it becomes necessary for the Rural Parents Association to restate its stand on the school problem.

The Rural Parents Association represents a large segment of the tax paying parents in Fayette County and we do not intend to be ignored. Letters of invitation to a four-way joint discussion were sent to and received by Taylor Groff, Robert Terhune and Kenneth Bush.
Taylor Groff and Kenneth Bush chose to ignore our request without even the courtesy of a reply.
Their implication on the radio and in the press that we were an unofficial body unworthy of consideration was intended to humiliate the members of the Rural Parents Association and will not be taken lying down.

As always, a cooperative approach to the school problem has proven most distasteful to them.
Under capable and unrelenting leadership the "rural school for rural children only" people are going blindly forward ignoring or castigating those of us who oppose their course.

The Rural Parents Association has attempted every reasonable means to bring our views up for consideration with the County Board of Education, the County Superintendent, the Miami Trace Local Board of Education and the Fact Finders. All our efforts have been either ignored, answered indirectly by "whereas" resolutions or by anonymous phone calls to the residences of members of our Association.

The Rural Parents Association, mindful that "all the battles but the last one can be lost and still win the war," will continue to strive for a qualified and unbiased survey by a competent professional staff of the entire Fayette County School System. This is the most reasonable approach, and the only approach, that will give the ultimate in education for Fayette County. By spreading the tax base to its widest extent such a school system would be least costly to all concerned both rural and city.

Both would share equally in the costs.

Jeffersonville has a fine high school and a fine elementary school. The Rural Parents Association believes that it should remain that way and not be completely upset by sending their elementary students to Bookwalter to save face for Miami Trace bungling and personal political aspirations within that group.

The Rural Parents Association is standing firm against removal of its children from current courses of education in which they are making satisfactory progress. Our children must not be uprooted and deprived of their present friends and associations. There is no reasonable explanation why our children should spend from two to three hours in bus travel each day.

Before the Rural Parents Association invitation to a joint discussion was sent out, it was generally agreed by leaders of each group that the tuition students would be accepted in Washington C. H. High School next year. It was agreed in turn that some five elementary classrooms could be made available by Miami Trace to assist Washington C. H. in exchange for taking the tuition pupils. It was agreed that mutual satisfaction. It was agreed that Washington C. H. would buy the necessary busses for transporting the elementary students around the fringe area of town nearest Wilson, Chaffin and Eber.

All these agreed points were disregarded by Miami Trace and a meeting refused when an equitable survey for Fayette County became an apparent contingency.
They will consider no course of action but that one laid out for them, and so doggedly pursued, apparently to the bitter end.

The Rural Parents Association believes there are other considerations, believes our children will never be removed from Washington C. H. High School, believes an all-Fayette County system will

FAYETTE COUNTIAN SEEKS SEAT IN STATE SENATE:
Brandenburg has become recognized in this and numerous other Ohio communities, not only as a man of integrity and high qualifications, but also as a citizen who has never shirked any of the many public duties and assignments thrust upon him.
In every instance, without thought of reward, he has completed any job for which he has been designated with unquestioned ability and success.
He has proven himself as possessing unusual vigor, mentally and physically; a man of forceful and sound business judgement; a man to be trusted.
The 5th-6th Ohio Senatorial District needs a man of this caliber to represent it and his thousands of friends are hoping to see Brandenburg nominated for this post

BRANDENBURG FOR STATE SENATOR:
Few men have given more unselfishly of their time to civic and community affairs than Ray Brandenburg of Washington C. H.
Here is a man who is in every way qualified for the position he seeks, the type man we are proud to see offer his services to his state. We shall support his candidacy for State Senator without hesitation and urge our readers to do likewise.
THE LEEBURG CITIZEN
We believe the people of this district want and should have an aggressive repre-

important and VITAL questions to come before the next Ohio General Assembly, which will affect the people of this District. Taxation, Schools, Agriculture, Industry and many other issues of importance. We feel that Ray Brandenburg with his background of experience as a businessman, farmer and stockman is well qualified for the office of State Senator.
He has been fully endorsed by the Fayette County Republican Committee, Harold Finley, Chairman.

Earth-Quaking
Volcanoes Are Being Studied

Mysteries Probed
By Scientists In South Sea Islands

By ARTHUR SCHOLLES
AUCKLAND, New Zealand—Government volcanologists are probing a mysterious series of earthquakes and blasts which are thought to have originated among
the great snow-capped peaks of Tongariro National Park.

Residents and farmers reported the blasts and tremors over a 100-mile radius.

Geologists think that a fault may have developed in a portion of the earth's crust in the southern highlands of New Zealand.

In its simplest form a fault is a fracture in the earth along which
wall shifts relative to the other.
The larger the shift the more violent is the earthquake.

New Zealand geologists cannot
explain the cause of the latest faulting or shifting satisfactorily, but
some of them believe that earthquakes are set off by the pull of the sun and moon on the earth.

If this hypothesis is correct, a
passing storm, a high tide, relatively small amounts of material washed from a mountain and added to deposits that have accumulated for centuries may have upset the equilibrium of delicately poised strata.

Says She Needed Paddling She Got

MCCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (P)— A former pupil of Jack Eberle told a school board hearing Thursday she deserved the paddling she received from the 25-year-old Eberle.

Eberle is fighting his dismissal
from his job as English instructor
in the high school at nearby
Deavertown. He is charged with paddling five of his 15-year-old girl pupils and teaching the Bible
in class contrary to school rules.
The former pupil, Rachel Lewis,
who transferred to another school
shortly after Eberle's dismissal,
said:

"There wasn't very much discipline (in Eberle's class). I had a habit of talking out loud whenever
I wanted to. I guess it was just a habit but I wanted to see how far I could get without getting a
paddling."

Although peacock meat is dry
and tasteless, it was often eaten
during the Middle Ages.

"IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD."

Ray Brandenburg
REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR NOMINATION TO THE OHIO SENATE - 5th-6th District -- First Term!

These recent unsolicited editorials appearing in leading newspapers in the 5th-6th Ohio Senatorial District carried the following statements:

FAYETTE COUNTIAN SEEKS SEAT IN STATE SENATE:
Brandenburg has become recognized in this and numerous other Ohio communities, not only as a man of integrity and high qualifications, but also as a citizen who has never shirked any of the many public duties and assignments thrust upon him.
In every instance, without thought of reward, he has completed any job for which he has been designated with unquestioned ability and success.

He has proven himself as possessing unusual vigor, mentally and physically; a man of forceful and sound business judgement; a man to be trusted.

The 5th-6th Ohio Senatorial District needs a man of this caliber to represent it
and his thousands of friends are hoping to see Brandenburg nominated for this post

BRANDENBURG FOR STATE SENATOR:
than Ray Brandenburg of Washington C. H.

Here is a man who is in every way qualified for the position he seeks, the type man we are proud to see offer his services to his state. We shall support his candidacy for State Senator without hesitation and urge our readers to do likewise.

THE LEEBSBURG CITIZEN

We believe the people of this district want and should have an aggressive representative who will stand firmly for the protection of their interests. There are many important and VITAL questions to come before the next Ohio General Assembly, which will affect the people of this District, Taxation, Schools, Agriculture, Industry and many other issues of importance. We feel that Ray Brandenburg with his background of experience as a businessman, farmer and stockman is well qualified for the office of State Senator.

He has been fully endorsed by the Fayette County Republican Committee, Harold Finley, Chairman.

There's Music In that Junk

Maine War Veteran Makes Discoveries

SOUTH Parsonfield, Maine (P)—Ven Smith makes musical instruments out of discarded tin cans, milk cans, chopping trays, pans, wooden boxes, lard kegs.

"There's music all around us if we'd only listen for it," he says. "There's music when a hammer hits a nail; when two stones are struck together."

Take his tin can chimes. He discovered cans give off varying notes when struck, especially if there are dents. So he created a tin can xylophone.

Then there's the wagon whiffletree into which he drove 10 nails. "I just tinkered until I had each so it makes a note of the scale."

He drew a violin bow across the nails. Nothing came out. Then he put one end of the whiffletree on an old fish box for a resonance chamber. Soon he was playing "Home Sweet Home."

HIS LATEST is the musical bedstead. He got out his hacksaw and cut the bars at varying lengths. He also has a musical pitchfork with strings, tuned an octave apart, along the handle.

For years Smith has been entertaining rural audiences. Before his children grew up and moved away they were the "Singing Smiths."

Ven played the violin and assorted carpenter's tools; daughter Alice played guitar, son Arnold the Jew's harp and other things; daughter Louise the guitar, and son Raymond the drums.

Alice's guitar was a tray with strings. Louise's guitar was a fingerboard on a tin pan. Ray, just a little fellow then, had a molasses keg with skin head for a base drum. The cymbal was the reflector off an old automobile and the snare drum a bon bon can with felt on top.

Ven has improvised violins from an old salt fish box and from a cheese box.

He plays the real thing, too. He gives out with the violin, piano, vibraphone and banjo.

The latest is flower pots. While he and Mrs. Smith were setting plants, he noticed that the pots gave out with rich notes.

Galion Couple Given Sentence

BUCYRUS, Ohio (P)—Juvenile Judge Don J. Young has sentenced a Galion couple to one-year terms for acting in a way tending to cause the delinquency of their adopted daughter.

The one-year terms and fines of $250 each were imposed on Carl and Katherine Gans. The couple was charged in connection with the marriage of 11-year-old Karlene Gans. Court testimony showed the pair aided her in obtaining a West Virginia marriage license so that Karlene could marry Stanley Thorne, 18.

Thorne charged the girl's parents lied about her age so that she could obtain the license. A jury found the couple guilty last March 29.

(City School Superintendent)

"School Daze," the entertainment to be presented by the faculty, office employees, and board members of the Washington C. H. Schools on Monday, May 7, sounds like it will be a lot of fun. A cast of 80 members will participate.

Presented for the purpose of providing a scholarship for a well-deserving senior who wants to go on to college to become a teacher, the script and acts are all original and "live."

An amazing amount of talent—dramatic, vocal, instrumental and terpsichorean—has been discovered under the usual staid countenances of the faculty members.

The script has been written by Thomas Mansell of the speech and drama department, assisted by Clara Davis and Dorothy Everhart.

Faculty and board members' wives or husbands are participating, too. A cast of over 80 members will present the show, and others of the faculty not in the cast will handle the technical details. All faculty members will participate in one capacity or another.

A choir of 30 voices will present some outstanding numbers under the direction of Ellen Pensyl. A German Band of faculty men will provide some lighter moments.

Naomi Gettig is directing a skit which promises to bring the house down. A novel vocal solo will be presented by Bob Terhune, president of the Board of Education.

A piano duo has been discovered that will put Frankie Carl in a back seat.

Robert Neumann will present a vocal solo and there will be a male quartette to do some favorite barbershop numbers.

Ruth Stecher carries the continuity for the show. Specialty numbers are interspersed throughout the show.

A special matinee, primarily for all the students, will be presented at 4:00 P. M. on Monday in the auditorium. The evening performance starts at 8:00 P. M.

Tickets are being sold in advance.

School Safety Patrol Here Gets Recognition

Saturday will be National School Safety Patrol Day, but the main observance in Washington C. H. is being postponed until the weather warms up and arrangements for rewarding the boys — and some girls, too—can be completed.

As the end of the school year approached, school officials and Parent-Teacher Association members felt the youngsters who have helped so faithfully to protect fellow pupils from the hazards of traffic should be recognized in a practical and tangible way.

So, with the school officials and PTAs cooperating, it was decided that they should all be taken to Columbus to see a baseball game by the Jets of the International League at Jet Stadium.

Principals of three of the city's five elementary schools and representatives of two PTAs were named on a committee to work out the details for the expedition. On the committee are Prin. Earl Miller of Cherry Hill, chairman; Prin. Leo Whiteside of Sunnyside, Prin. Hugh Rea of Rose Avenue; Bob Wolf from of Eastside PTA and John Leland of Central PTA.

THE PATROL members are to be taken to the game in cars provided by the committeeman and volunteers from among the parents. Just how many will make the excursion is still uncertain, but it probably will be between 50 and 60, not including the drivers and chaperones.

Like the postman, school patrol boys and girls are at their posts at street crossings near the schools, rain or shine, hot or cold. Strict and serious adherence to their responsibility has gained them the respect of other youngsters as well as the gratitude of public and school officials and, most of all, the parents.

National School Safety Patrol Day is sponsored by the American Automobile Association. More than 650,000 boys and girls in some 14,000 communities are honored by it.

OBSERVANCE will vary in the different communities but one of the biggest celebrations is scheduled for Washington, D. C., where more than 30,000 patrol members from all over the eastern, southern and some Midwest states will march down Constitution Avenue over the route taken by so many of the World's great people when given public recognition.

Andrew J. Sordani, president of the AAA, said of the school safety patrols:

"In some 14,000 communities, in all kind of weather, School Safety Patrol members protect their schoolmates from traffic dangers en route to and from school. There is no finer voluntary service. The job done by these youngsters, and the safety education program in schools, has had a major part in reducing the traffic fatality rate of the 5-14 year age group by some 45 percent over the last 20 years, while the rate for all other age groups has almost doubled."

Here in Washington C. H. the boys and girls already have received recognition in their schools. Gov. Frank J. Lausche's proclamation of School Safety Patrol Day for Ohio has been, or will be read to all the pupils in each of the schools.

In his proclamation, Gov. Lausche noted that "it is my pleasure to issue this special commendation to the boys and girls serving as members of the School Safety Patrol. Their interest in the safety and security of schoolmates is to be highly commended. Membership in the Patrol provides an outstanding opportunity for citizenship education. The unselfish actions and achievements of members of the Safety Patrol are symbolic of the finest traditions of our nation, serving to remind others of the importance of safety and civic duty."

Sports Car Rally

"correct" time of about 24 hours is the winner—if. . .

There are plenty of ifs. In the first place, both the driver and his car must turn in nearly flawless performances. If the driver is detected in violations of speed laws or any other motor vehicle regulations, he's out of the running.

Secret observers are spotted along the course to put teeth in the rules. State Highway Patrol and other law enforcement officials along the route are co-operating too.

If a car suffers a breakdown, there is more than a time loss to penalize the driver. Breakdowns cost black marks. A safety inspection and "regularity run" will back up this part of the regulations.

THE RALLY will start Friday evening and end about 24 hours later.

As one of the six main check points for the event, Washington C. H. will be starting point for roughly a sixth of the expected 100 entries.

Each of the other five points in the state—Steubenville, St. Marys, Parrisburg, Maumee-Marietta and Brecksville—will start about the same number of cars at the same time.

The starting flag will drop for the first car at 7:02 P. M. (Washington C. H. time.) The rest of the cars will be started at two-minute intervals.

Daylight Saving Time will be used for the race, which may confuse some observers, but won't bother the drivers. They will carry their own 24-hour timers with them to keep accurate tabs on their progress.

TIMING a rally, experienced "navigators" say, is as exacting a job as navigating a ship or plane. Both jobs require keeping an exact check, not only on where you are, but on "when" you are.

Drivers using Washington C. H. as their starting point will leave the Sohio station at West Court and Hinde Streets. They will head out Route 22 (the Circleville Pike) for Marietta, in the southeastern corner of the state.

They will wind up their 24-hour stunts Saturday evening, back in Washington C. H.

Meanwhile, drivers who started out from the other points along the course will be coming through Washington C. H. at intervals throughout the 24 hours of the rally.

License Annoyed Her

BOSTON (AP)—Police found an illegally parked car without registration plates and towed it to a garage.

The woman owner, who demanded return of the vehicle, was asked why the automobile had no registration plates.

"They became loose," she said, "so I took them off."

U. S. Economic Signs Jumbled For Everyone

What Lies Just Ahead Depends A Lot On Residence And Job

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The economic signs are so jumbled today that what's ahead for you depends a great deal on where you live and what you do.

One set of businessmen are beset by material shortages, rising labor and material costs and a tight supply of skilled labor. For them, and for the bankers who are having a hard time to find the money to finance them, "the storm signals of inflation are flying."

Another set of businessmen are beset by slumping markets, declining sales, spreading employee layoffs and falling income. For them, and for the merchants in the towns where these industries operate, it looks as if deflation is on the way.

"Bottlenecks and soft spots exist together," the First National City Bank of New York points out in its June letter.

"The business situation is concocted of a variety of inflationary and depressive forces, lacking any single tell-tale characteristic," the economists of the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York confess.

The difference in opinion apparently extends to Washington. One group there fears inflation and wants the money supply tightened and possibly a return to federal controls on credit. Another fears that the soft spots in the auto farming industries will spread to others, and wants a stimulant to be given the economy now.

Another factor to confuse the situation now—and one which the bankers don't mention—is that in a presidential election year any discussion of the economy and its future course must be examined for possible political purpose.

On one point most observers agree now. As the First National City Bank puts it, "for the remainder of 1956 at least, the prospects of any material slackening in the heavy goods industries are small indeed."

The bank sees an inflation danger in this because in some cases output is bumping against the ceiling of capacity. It notes:

"Lack of steel, copper and aluminum imposes limits on durable goods output and heavy construction. Other materials, including cement, paper and nickel, are in short supply despite peak output. Skilled workers are becoming increasingly hard to find. For all these reasons production cannot rise proportionately with demand."

The end result: Prices go up. Ray D. Murphy, chairman of the board of Equitable Life Assurance Society, sees the chief danger of inflation lying in the fact that the more than normal growth in the economy in recent months was achieved by going heavily into debt.

4-H Club Activities

THIMBLE SISTERS

Mrs. Gladis M. Lucas, advisor of the Thimble Sisters, gave all the girls their project books at the club session held recently at Mrs. Lucas' home.

Kristin Himmelsbach, the vice president, led the 4-H pledge to open the meeting and Ann McDonald and Mary Anne Hackett read the secretary's and treasurer's reports.

Each member was assigned a demonstration to be presented at a specified meeting. Jowanda Wilson and Kristin drew the demonstration assignment for the next meeting, scheduled for May 15 at the advisor's home.

The girls discussed the 4-H party, 4-H Sunday, the opening of Camp Clifton in June, the Fair and a community service project for the youngsters in the children's ward at the hospital.

Edith Bach, the club's newest member, was at the meeting.

Business Hiking Interest In Schools

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Businessmen are taking an ever increasing interest in schools and education, the president of the Ohio Federation of Teachers said today.

Paul B. High of Cleveland said businessmen have realized the effect of inadequate schools on the quality of their employees and are taking an active part in improving schools.

High, in an address prepared for the opening session of the federation's annual convention, said schools have improved in many ways despite "selfishly-motivated" charges against them.

He also called for higher teacher salaries and greater activity by teachers in "unions run by themselves."

The convention ends Saturday.

School Safety Patrol Here Gets Recognition

Saturday will be National School Safety Patrol Day, but the main observance in Washington C. H. is being postponed until the weather warms up and arrangements for rewarding the boys — and some girls, too—can be completed.

As the end of the school year approached, school officials and Parent-Teacher Association members felt the youngsters who have helped so faithfully to protect fellow pupils from the hazards of traffic should be recognized in a practical and tangible way.

So, with the school officials and PTAs cooperating, it was decided that they should all be taken to Columbus to see a baseball game by the Jets of the International League at Jet Stadium.

Principals of three of the city's five elementary schools and representatives of two PTAs were named on a committee to work out the details for the expedition. On the committee are Prin. Earl Miller of Cherry Hill, chairman; Prin. Leo Whiteside of Sunnyside, Prin. Hugh Rea of Rose Avenue; Bob Wolf from of Eastside PTA and John Leland of Central PTA.

THE PATROL members are to be taken to the game in cars provided by the committeeman and volunteers from among the parents. Just how many will make the excursion is still uncertain, but it probably will be between 50 and 60, not including the drivers and chaperones.

Like the postman, school patrol boys and girls are at their posts at street crossings near the schools, rain or shine, hot or cold. Strict and serious adherence to their responsibility has gained them the respect of other youngsters as well as the gratitude of public and school officials and, most of all, the parents.

National School Safety Patrol Day is sponsored by the American Automobile Association. More than 650,000 boys and girls in some 14,000 communities are honored by it.

OBSERVANCE will vary in the different communities but one of the biggest celebrations is scheduled for Washington, D. C., where more than 30,000 patrol members from all over the eastern, southern and some Midwest states will march down Constitution Avenue over the route taken by so many of the World's great people when given public recognition.

Andrew J. Sordani, president of the AAA, said of the school safety patrols:

"In some 14,000 communities, in all kind of weather, School Safety Patrol members protect their schoolmates from traffic dangers en route to and from school. There is no finer voluntary service. The job done by these youngsters, and the safety education program in schools, has had a major part in reducing the traffic fatality rate of the 5-14 year age group by some 45 percent over the last 30 ears, while the rate for all other age groups has almost doubled."

Here in Washington C. H. the boys and girls already have received recognition in their schools; Gov. Frank J. Lausche's proclamation of School Safety Patrol Day for Ohio has been, or will be read to all the pupils in each of the schools.

Lady Lobbyists? Lots of Them

Lobbying Inquiry
Reveals Surprises

By LEONARD J. SNYDER
(Central Press Association)

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's veto of the gas bill and the Senate lobby committee it set in motion calls attention to a fact often overlooked by those outside the capital. It is that many of the lobbyists in this town are pretty— which is another way of saying they're not all men.

The special lobby investigation committee may focus its attention on the fair sex during the course of its proceedings.

And if the committee need reminding of the enormous power of women, all they have to do is look back to the last presidential election when 52 percent of the votes that elected Mr. Eisenhower came from women.

American women not only hold the nation's purse strings (which should be differentiated from the congressional purse strings since there's not a single woman on the House appropriations committee), but wield a great deal of power and influence in all fields of public endeavor.

Moreover, if it ever came to a showdown between men and women at the polls, the women would outnumber the men since there are about two million more women voters than there are men voters.

THE WOMEN who are registered lobbyists and legislative representatives of national women's groups are as diligent and as persistent in their objectives as any of their male counterparts. For the most part, they're also more tactful and easier to deal with.

Among those who never fail to skirt an issue they believe in are Mrs. Paul A. Hartz, a lobbyist for the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Katharine Kulme, the legislative representative of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women; and Mrs. John G. Lee, the gracious and dynamic president of the League of Women Voters.

There also are Mrs. Luella Berg, a lobbyist for the American Association of University Women, and Miss Alice Paul, who has crusaded for many years for the complete freedom of women. She has been supported in this endeavor by the "chairmen" of the joint committee of the National Woman's party to secure the passage of the equal rights amendment to the Constitution. Mrs. Emma G. Miller, a Democrat, and Mrs. Pearl M. Sayre, a Republican.

ANOTHER GROUP, the National Woman's party, has but one objective, the passage of the equal rights amendment to the Constitution as a means of wiping out all discrimination against women.

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution is another outspoken group ably represented at various Capitol Hill gatherings by Miss Gertrude Carraway, its president general, and Mrs. James B. Patton, chairman of national defense.

Mrs. Ernest W. Howard is still another active worker against legislation she believes would infringe on the rights of Americans under the Constitution. She's president of the ladies auxiliary of the International Association of Fire Fighters and vice president of the American Federation of Women's Auxiliaries of Labor.

Speaking for the American Coalition, an organization of patriotic societies, is Mrs. Madeleine Dingley Leetch, while Miss Elizabeth Smart of the Women's Christian Temperance union is another fighter for principles she advocates. The Temperance union works hard for bills regulating liquor advertising.

Women's rights got another boost recently when Senator Ives (R), New York, introduced a bill—the first such measure in the current session of Congress—which implements a recommendation made by President Eisenhower in his 1956 State of the Union message.

MR. EISENHOWER called for "legislation to apply the principle of equal pay for equal work without discrimination because of sex." He said this "is a matter of simple justice."

That's the way Senator Ives and the several other Republicans who joined him in sponsoring the bill feel. Ives told Central Press that he thought the chances of the passage of federal equal-pay legislation were "pretty good because so many women's organizations are behind the idea."

Ives pointed out that last year there were 20 million employed women in the country, almost one-third of the United States working force, and more than at any other time in our history, including the peak war years of 1944 and 1945. Ives' bill would cover states not already protected by state equal-pay laws as well as the 16 states and Alaska, which already have such laws.

"At the outset," said the senator, "we were faced with much prejudice from men who thought that it would make their own jobs insecure. However, their idea proved entirely false. Men have a habit of being prejudiced on these matters but today there is far more tolerance toward women working."

House Group Approves Big Reserve Setup

WASHINGTON—The House Appropriations Committee today approved a $40 million construction program for Army reserve training facilities and National Guard armories.

The committee recommended that Congress give the Army just what it asked for buildings in which to carry out an expanded beefing-up of Uncle Sam's standby forces.

Col. William R. Shuler, construction division chief for the Army's deputy chief for logistics, declared that "all of these projects are needed now. They are for units now activated and meeting in someone's back office, in warehouses, in garages and schools."

The reserve training buildings approved, on which the federal government would pay the entire cost, include 18 in Ohio (number of men designed for and cost, in that order):

Ashtabula 200, $175,000; Athens 100, $75,000; Bellaire 200, $175,000; Bryan 100, $75,000; Cadiz 10, $75,000; Chillicothe 200, $175,000; East Liverpool 200, $175,000; Fremont 100, $75,000; Kenton 200, $175,000; Mount Vernon 100, $75,000; Newark 10, $75,000; Painesville 100, $75,000; Plymouth 100, $75,000; Portsmouth 200, $175,000; Sandusky 10, $75,000; St. Marys 100, $75,000; Steubenville 200, $175,000; Urbana 100, $75,000.

3-Point Program Offered To Bolster Teaching Force

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a pair of articles dealing with the acute shortage of teachers in Ohio's public school system.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—The state department of education has a three-point program designed to bolster Ohio's teaching force.

The department knows Ohio will need 8,500 teachers next year. It knows, too, that the state has a potential supply of only 6,700.

What then, is being done to ease the expected shortage of approximately 1,800 teachers next year?

The department says it plans to cope with the problem through certification, scholarship and recruitment programs.

Along the lines of certification, the department has opened the door to the teaching field to any person holding a bachelor of arts or science degree.

Such a person, by taking four prescribed courses in a 12-week summer session, may be granted a temporary certificate for teaching on the elementary level.

The standard certificate is issued when 30 semester hours have been completed, this coming at the rate of six semester hours of additional training each year until the total has been reached.

Harold J. Bowers, director of teacher training, says since 1950, this program has provided Ohio with from 100 to 300 teachers a year. Most of these teachers, Bowers said, are housewives who hold college degrees which did not include preparation for teaching.

"These housewives volunteered to take the program in the interest of serving the schools in their community," Bowers said.

The department also is interested in drawing into the teaching field those persons who hold valid or expired teaching certificates. Approximately one-third of those prepared to teach never do so.

"If these persons were to return to the classroom there would be an ample supply of teachers and possibly a surplus," Bowers contends.

Expired certificates may be renewed by completion of a six semester hour refresher course.

Currently, almost 1,000 teachers a year return to teaching after completing the refresher course. Bowers said superintendents are being urged to contact persons who can be persuaded to return to teaching under these conditions. Each year, Ohio is certifying more and more teachers from other states. In 1955, more than 2,900 from out-of-state were certified but fewer than one-half actually were employed.

"If the preparation of these applicants is substantially equivalent to that required in Ohio colleges, the standard provisional certificate is issued. If only minor deficiencies exist, a temporary certificate is issued," Bowers said.

He said that Ohio's salary tenure and retirement laws are inducing teachers in other states to come here.

The department is attracting teachers through scholarships. The state annually awards 500 scholarships, each in the amount of $300 per year, to those who want to become elementary teachers but need financial assistance.

Bowers said this program supplied 291 teachers in 1956 who presumably would not be teaching if they had not received assistance.

Recruitment looms as an important factor in the state's attempt to secure teachers.

The Future Teacher Club program, sponsored by the Ohio Education Assn., acquaints high school and college students with opportunities in the teaching field.

Currently, there are 158 such clubs in Ohio high schools and 25 in the state's colleges.

Each year Bowers prepares and distributes 5,000 copies of "An Annual Summary of Teacher Supply and Demand" which has had wide usage by high school and college counselors.

Bowers said the drive to recruit students for teaching careers is an intensive one. Since Jan. 1, 1956, he added, education officials have participated in career day programs in schools and colleges talking to more than 600 students on opportunities in teaching.

Bowers insists that school superintendents maintain the standards of certification.

However, he said Ohio's three-point program to bolster the state's teaching ranks is showing progress. One day, it may pay off with more and better teachers.

What vast changes have taken place in the last fifty years in Washington Court House. Starting at North and Court St. was the Frank Rief Grocery, next to that, was Chas. Bryant's Barber Shop, then the Tom Duffy Cobbling Shop, next to that was the Gem Theatre, which frequently changed hands.

Hess and McCoy ran an undertaking shop next to the theatre. Brant Ott, had a saloon where the Bell Telephone Company now has an office. I remember that painted on the walls of the saloon entrance, was a mural of King Frederick Barbarossa, of Germany, to advertise Barbarossa Beer. This king reigned, from 1152 to 1190, and was one of the three kings, who led Third Crusade. He was a very wise monarch and granted important privileges to cities, making some of them free. So much for Fred Barbarossa.

Across the alley was a bakery, next to that was Rothrock's Laundry, next to that Wigginton and Smith's Restaurant, where you could get a 21 meal ticket, for $3.50. Next was Seth Parrett's Grocery, next to that, was Barnett's Grocery, who always mentioned Peaberry Coffee, in their ads.

Lady Lobbyists? Lots of Them

Lobbying Inquiry
Reveals Surprises

By LEONARD J. SNYDER
(Central Press Association)

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's veto of the gas bill and the Senate lobby committee it set in motion calls attention to a fact often overlooked by those outside the capital. It is that many of the lobbyists in this town are pretty— which is another way of saying they're not all men.

The special lobby investigation committee may focus its attention on the fair sex during the course of its proceedings.

And if the committeemen need reminding of the enormous power of women, all they have to do is look back to the last presidential election when 52 percent of the votes that elected Mr. Eisenhower came from women.

American women not only hold the nation's purse strings (which should be differentiated from the congressional purse strings since there's not a single woman on the House appropriations committee), but wield a great deal of power and influence in all fields of public endeavor.

Moreover, if it ever came to a showdown between men and women at the polls, the women would outnumber the men since there are about two million more women voters than there are men voters.

THE WOMEN who are registered lobbyists and legislative representatives of national women's groups are as diligent and as persistent in their objectives as any of their male counterparts. For the most part, they're also more tactful and easier to deal with.

Among those who never fail to skirt an issue they believe in are Mrs. Paul A. Hartz, a lobbyist for the General Federation of Women's Clubs; Mrs. Katharine Kulme, the legislative representative of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women; and Mrs. John G. Lee, the gracious and dynamic president of the League of Women Voters.

There also are Mrs. Luella Berg, a lobbyist for the American Association of University Women, and Miss Alice Paul, who has crusaded for many years for the complete freedom of women. She has been supported in this endeavor by the "chairmen" of the joint committee of the National Woman's party to secure the passage of the equal rights amendment to the Constitution, Mrs. Emma Guffey Miller, a Democrat, and Mrs. Pearl M. Sayre, a Republican.

ANOTHER GROUP, the National Woman's party, has but one objective, the passage of the equal rights amendment to the Constitution as a means of wiping out all discrimination against women.

The National Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution is another outspoken group ably represented at various Capitol Hill gatherings by Miss Gertrude Carraway, its president general, and Mrs. James B. Patton, chairman of national defense.

Mrs. Ernest W. Howard is still another active worker against legislation she believes would infringe on the rights of Americans under the Constitution. She's president of the ladies auxiliary of the International Association of Fire Fighters and vice president of the American Federation of Women's Auxiliaries of Labor.

Speaking for the American Coalition, an organization of patriotic societies, is Mrs. Madeleine Dingley Leetch, while Miss Elizabeth Smart of the Women's Christian Temperance union is another fighter for principles she advocates. The Temperance union works hard for bills regulating liquor advertising.

One of the most vigorous campaigns now being undertaken by a number of women's organizations is to free women from discrimination because of their sex.

Women's rights got another boost recently when Senator Irving Ives (R), New York, introduced a bill—the first such measure in the current session of Congress—which implements a recommendation made by President Eisenhower in his 1956 State of the Union message.

MR. EISENHOWER called for "legislation to apply the principle of equal pay for equal work without discrimination because of sex." He said this "is a matter of simple justice."

That's the way Senator Ives and the several other Republicans who joined him in sponsoring the bill feel. Ives told Central Press that he thought the chances of the passage of federal equal-pay legislation were "pretty good because so many women's organizations are behind the idea."

Ives pointed out that last year there were 20 million employed women in the country, almost one-third of the United States working force, and more than at any other time in our history, including the peak war years of 1944 and 1945. Ives' bill would cover states not already protected by state equal-pay laws as well as the 16 states and Alaska, which already have such laws.

"At the outset," said the senator, "we were faced with much prejudice from men who thought that it would make their own jobs insecure. However, their idea proved entirely false. Men have a habit of being prejudiced on these matters but today there is far more tolerance toward women working."

Ohio Students Prefer Ike And Johnson

(By The Associated Press)

Student delegates at a mock Republican convention last night at Kenyon College "renominated" President Eisenhower while a mock Democratic convention at Hiram College nominated Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas for President.

For vice president, Kenyon students picked Gov. Christian Herlihy of Massachusetts. In Hiram, Democratic Gov. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine was the choice.

Six ballots were needed to nominate Johnson at Hiram. On the sixth ballot Johnson edged Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio by 152-148. Adlai Stevenson showed early strength but faded in later polls while Sen. Estes Kefauver was never in the running.

In Kenyon, President Eisenhower was far out in front of second place Sen. Knowland of California. 123-91 at the end of the first ballot. A swing by the "California" and "Illinois" delegations at the end of the second ballot clinched his nomination.

Keynote speaker at Hiram was Michael V. DiSalle, Sen. George H. Bender was at Kenyon.

270 Precinct Officials Are To Handle Primary Elections Here Tuesday

Tuesday's primary election in Fayette County will be handled by 270 precinct officials, judges and clerks, who will draw $3,465 for their work.

They will be on the job from 6:30 A. M. until they finish counting the votes. The 45 presiding judges will draw $12 pay, with $5 extra for picking up the ballots at the Board of Elections office and delivering the voted ballots and records to the board after the election.

The 135 judges and 90 clerks also will each draw $12 for the day's work.

The precinct officials are appointed by the board of elections, upon recommendation of the party committeemen.

It will require considerable time for most of the precinct boards to tabulate the returns, due to the large number of names, although contests are not too plentiful.

TO REPUBLICAN VOTERS!

When I made application to fill the vacancy in the office of County Auditor, following the death of the incumbent several months ago, the County Commissioners who were charged with responsibility of filling that office, requested an endorsement of the Republican county central and executive committeemen.

I presented this endorsement signed by all 32 members of these committees. That endorsement is now on file in the office of the County Commissioners.

I was born in Fayette County, educated in the county elementary schools and graduated from the Washington High School. I received a BS degree from Wilmington College and later taught school for 26 years, most of that time in Fayette County. I hold a life certificate both for elementary and high school teaching.

I also served as township clerk in Jasper Township for 22 years prior to becoming County Auditor.

I have no enemies to punish nor friends to reward in any of my official activities. It is my sincere purpose to serve ALL of the people of this county with complete fairness and without any evasion of responsibility in any duties I am called upon to perform.

WHY VETERANS SHOULD VOTE FOR DANIELS FOR CONGRESS

ALBERT L. DANIELS, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congress, has served two terms in the Ohio House of Representatives, six terms in the Ohio Senate — and has a distinguished record of public service.

In addition to sponsoring legislation for TEACHERS, SCHOOLS, FARMERS, OLD AGE PENSIONS, MENTAL HEALTH, CLEAN ELECTIONS, LAKES AND PARKS, —

DANIELS—was Vice Chairman of the Veterans Program Commission for Ohio, which planned the program for aiding in the readjustment of Ohio's ONE MILLION WAR II VETERANS to civilian life.

DANIELS—was co-author of the first Bill introduced in the Ohio Senate, providing for a State Bonus for War II veterans.

DANIELS—was the author of the Veterans' Employment Bill.

DANIELS—introduced the first measure in the Ohio Senate, which would provide for a State Bonus for KOREAN VETERANS.

DANIELS—has been a Service Officer for a number of years and has assisted hundreds of veterans and their dependents in connection with the preparation and prosecution of their just claims.

DANIELS—was repeatedly selected by the 18 newspaper correspondents (both Republican and Democrat) as one of the most valuable and capable members of the Ohio Senate.

READ BELOW-AND VOTE-ON MAY 8th

Lost Weeks Are The End

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Starting a five-week vacation to Mexico, the Cloyd Taylor family found the youngest boy had chicken pox. He was left behind. Then every connecting rod in the car burned out. Taylor had to buy a new car. Fishing was impossible as flood waters swelled western streams. Mexican temperatures dropped to 11 above and $50 worth of color film taken was blank because the camera lens was stuck open all the time.

TO REPUBLICAN VOTERS!

When I made application to fill the vacancy in the office of County Auditor, following the death of the incumbent several months ago, the County Commissioners who were charged with responsibility of filling that office, requested an endorsement of the Republican county central and executive committeemen.

I presented this endorsement signed by all 32 members of these committees. That endorsement is now on file in the office of the County Commissioners.

I was born in Fayette County, educated in the county elementary schools and graduated from the Washington High School. I received a BS degree from Wilmington College and later taught school for 26 years, most of that time in Fayette County. I hold a life certificate both for elementary and high school teaching.

I also served as township clerk in Jasper Township for 22 years prior to becoming County Auditor.

I have no enemies to punish nor friends to reward in any of my official activities. It is my sincere purpose to serve ALL of the people of this county with complete fairness and without any evasion of responsibility in any duties I am called upon to perform.

HARRY R. ALLEN

For nomination as County Auditor, Primary Election May 8th.

Five Races Scheduled For Sunday Sport Here

Entries for the five-race card for Sunday's matinee harness horse racing program at the Fairground here disclose that three of them will have six horses apiece and the other two will each be made up of five horses.

The program provides two races for three-year-old trotters, a classified trot and pace, a 20 class trot and pace and a race for two-year-old pacers.

First to line up behind the mobile starting gate operated by John Sagar will be the three-year-old trotters. The two races with horses of the two gait will follow and the afternoon's turf sport will close with the two-year-olds.

As an extra added attraction, Times Square, Ohio's Harness Horse of the Year in 1955, is to be driven around the track by his owner, Eddie Kirk. The crowd will be given a look at this outstanding pacer between two of the regular races, but which two is still a bit uncertain.

THE RACE PROGRAM, which is sponsored by the Washington C. H. Lions club to raise money for its sight-saving fund and to give this harness horse loving community an early season taste of its favorite sport, is slated to get under way at 1:30 o'clock.

Entries and drivers for the afternoon's races are:

4-Win-Lite	Frank Junk	P. Norris
5-Forecaster	Mrs. Guy Bock	G. Bock

The matinee races will give the people here an opportunity to see a woman drive in a race. While, a few women ride the sulkeys to exercise horses, those who handle the reins in a race are rare.

Mrs. Jo Norris, who helps her husband with the training chores, is to drive Market Report in the second race, one of the three-year-old trots. Norris is with the Eddie Cobb stable.

And Cobb, himself, one of the top drivers on the big time of harness horse racing is to fly here from New York, where he is racing part of his stable at Roosevelt Raceway, to drive in four of the five races.

McKinley Kirk, rated the outstanding amateur driver of the country, also is to be among the drivers.

THE APPEARANCE of Times Square will give racing enthusiasts here one of the best opportunities they ever have had to see him this year. He has been in training at the track here, but will be shipped to the big tracks soon.

Winner of the $75,000 American Pacing Classic at Hollywood Park last fall, Times Square has wintered in fine form at the track here where he is being prepared for a campaign which will see him tackle the nation's toughest in a series of major stakes from coast to coast.

All proceeds from the matinee program will go to the Lions Club sight and welfare funds which have benefitted substantially since the annual matinee show was instituted four years ago.

General chairman for the matinee is Kirk.

The only outside experts called upon to aid in the project are for the sound system and the presiding judge. The club has a licensed presiding judge, John Sagar, in its ranks, but he'll be serving as the starter in Paul Young's starting gate. This is the same gate that was used at Magnolia Park in New Orleans until last week when that race meeting closed.

Complete plans have been made to handle a large crowd. The crew which must clean out the winter accumulation of dirt from the grandstand and mow the lawn around it already is at work.

The only admission charge will be for adults. All children under high school age will be admitted free and all grandstand seats are free. The box seats will go on sale Sunday prior to the racing and will be on a "first come first served" basis.

This being the fourth annual matinee event sponsored by the Lions Club, Kirk made it clear "we couldn't put this program on without the complete cooperation of the horsemen. They are donating their time and talent to make this one of the biggest charity events in the county's history."

Norm Siebern, Yankee rookie outfielder, received 139 walks in 137 games with Joplin, Mo., in 1952.

Dr. Condon Takes Professor's Post At University

ST. LOUIS (U)—Dr. Edward U. Condon, controversial former director of the National Bureau of Standards, will become professor of physics and head of that department at Washington University Sept. 1.

The appointment of the atomic scientist, now visiting professor of physics at the University of Pennsylvania, was announced Thursday by Chancellor Ethan A. H. Shepley.

Dr. Condon quit as director of research and development for the Corning (N.Y.) Glass Works in 1954 when he gave up an effort to win final security clearance on Navy contracts.

He said at the time he didn't think he could get a fair ruling in the Navy review of his security status although his loyalty already had been "clearly and formally established."

Five Races Scheduled For Sunday Sport Here

Entries for the five-race card for Sunday's matinee harness horse racing program at the Fairground here disclose that three of them will have six horses apiece and the other two will each be made up of five horses.

The program provides two races for three-year-old trotters, a classified trot and pace, a 20 class trot and pace and a race for two-year-old pacers.

First to line up behind the mobile starting gate operated by John Sagar will be the three-year-old trotters. The two races with horses of the two gaits will follow and the afternoon's turf sport will close with the two-year-olds.

As an extra added attraction, Times Square, Ohio's Harness Horse of the Year in 1955, is to be driven around the track by his owner, Eddie Kirk. The crowd will be given a look at this outstanding pacer between two of the regular races, but which two is still a bit uncertain.

THE RACE PROGRAM, which is sponsored by the Washington C. H. Lions club to raise money for its sight-saving fund and to give this harness horse loving community an early season taste of its favorite sport, is slated to get under way at 1:30 o'clock.

Entries and drivers for the afternoon's races are:

5-Forecaster	Mrs. Guy Bock	G. Bock

The matinee races will give the people here an opportunity to see a woman driver in a race. While, a few women ride the sulkies to exercise horses, those who handle the reins in a race are rare.

Mrs. Jo Norris, who helps her husband with the training chores, is to drive Market Report in the second race, one of the three-year-old trots. Norris is with the Eddie Cobb stable.

And Cobb, himself, one of the top drivers on the big time of harness horse racing is to fly here from New York, where he is racing part of his stable at Roosevelt Raceway, to drive in four of the five races.

McKinley Kirk, rated the outstanding amateur driver of the country, also is to be among the drivers.

THE APPEARANCE of Times Square will give racing enthusiasts here one of the few opportunities they ever have had to see him this year. He has been in training at the track here, but will be shipped to the big tracks soon.

Winner of the $75,000 American Pacing Classic at Hollywood Park last fall, Times Square has wintered in fine form at the track here where he is being prepared for a campaign which will see him tackle the nation's toughest in a series of major stakes from coast to coast.

All proceeds from the matinee program will go to the Lions Club sight and welfare funds which have benefitted substantially since the annual matinee show was instituted four years ago.

Horses slated to appear in action are those trotters and pacers which wintered at the local track.

General chairman for the matinee is Kirk.

The only outside experts called upon to aid in the project are for the sound system and the presiding judge. The club has a licensed presiding judge, John Sagar, in its ranks, but he'll be serving as the starter in Paul Young's starting gate. This is the same gate that was used at Magnolia Park in New Orleans until last week when that race meeting closed.

Complete plans have been made to handle a large crowd. The crew which must clean out the winter accumulation of dirt from the grandstand and mow the lawn around it already is at work.

The only admission charge will be for adults. All children under high school age will be admitted free and all grandstand seats are free. The box seats will go on sale Sunday prior to the racing and will be on a "first come first served" basis.

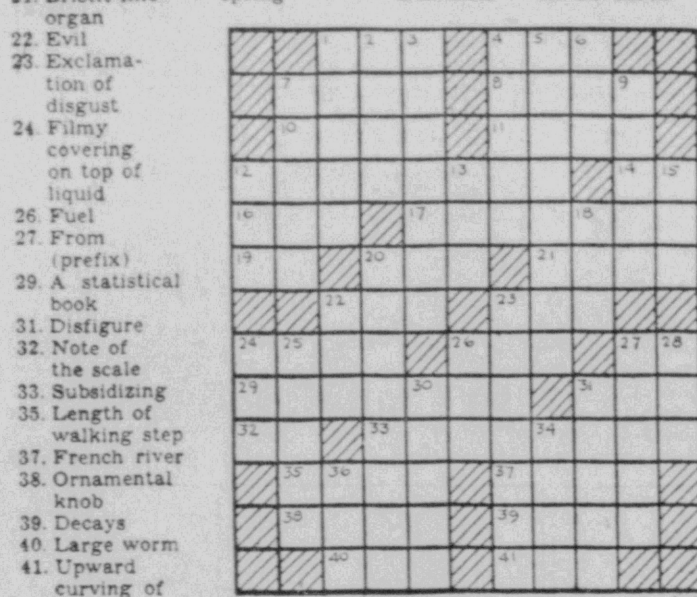

This being the fourth annual matinee event sponsored by the Lions Club, Kirk made it clear "we couldn't put this program on without the complete cooperation of the horsemen. They are donating their time and talent to make this one of the biggest charity events in the county's history."

Norm Siebern, Yankee rookie outfielder, received 139 walks in 137 games with Joplin, Mo., in 1952.

Will Big Jim Lemon Be Big Bust Again?

After 6-Year Flop, Washington Senator Bruises Ball At .381

(By The Associated Press)
Is this the year Jim Lemon of the Washington Senators, a minor league whiz and major league bust for six years, finally is going to make it in the big time?

Big Jim, a 6-foot-4 200-pounder, always could hit well in the pre-season training. Once the season started, however, he generally stopped hitting. First Cleveland and then Washington sadly shipped him back to the minors.

But this is a new year for Lemon. He is bruising the ball at a .381 clip, fourth best in the league, and stands fourth in runs batted in with 13.

Manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox apparently thought it was the "old" Jim Lemon his team was meeting Thursday night. Marty ordered Roy Sievers passed with a two-on, first-base-out situation in the seventh inning of a 4-4 ball game.

The 7-4 defeat suffered by Chicago enabled the New York Yankees to take over first even though the New Yorkers themselves dropped an 8-7 decision to Kansas City. The Yankees had been ahead on games won and lost right along, but Chicago previously had enjoyed a better percentage because of playing fewer games.

Cleveland, which whipped Baltimore 7-1 behind Mike Garcia's six-hit pitching, still trails Chicago in percentage, although ahead in games won and lost. Boston pulled up to the .500 mark as big Frank Sullivan, an old Tiger tamer, whipped Detroit 5-2 with a six-hitter.

Two streaks were halted abruptly as the National League race developed a tremendous traffic jam with three teams tied for first and three more clubs within a game of the top.

Brooklyn's defending world champions looked like the runaway team of 1955 as they bombed the St. Louis Cardinals 7-3 for their first victory in five starts. Pittsburgh's Bob Friend ended Cincinnati's six-game victory string as he pitched the Pirates to a five-hit, 5-1 victory.

The New York Giants game at Milwaukee was rained out, and both Philadelphia and Chicago had an off day.

The results left Milwaukee, St. Louis and Brooklyn tied for first in games won and lost, with the Braves out ahead on those pesky percentage points. Cincinnati and New York trail by half a game and the Pirates, of all people, are only a game off the pace.

Enos Slaughter, a Yankee discard, tormented his old mates as he doubled and scored the winning run for Kansas City in the ninth inning.

What made it worse for the Yanks was that they had battled back from a 7-2 deficit earlier on home runs by Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Yogi Berra. But they could do nothing with relief pitcher Ed Bartsch, who allowed just one hit in the last 4-1-3 innings.

Jim Busby and Al Rosen drove in three runs apiece in helping Garcia gain his first victory.

Sullivan made his lifetime record against Detroit 8-2 with the aid of two-run homers by Dick Gernert and Frank Malzone.

The Dodgers rocked the Cards with four first-inning runs, highlighted by Jackie Robinson's two-run triple, then really went to town with homers by Roy Campanella, Gil Hodges and Carl Furillo in the third. Don Newcombe won his third victory.

Pittsburgh's one-two punch of Dale Long and Frank Thomas accounted for four runs against Cincinnati. Both walloped home runs with a man on base.

Lions Win Track Meet By Margin of 5 Points

The Washington C. H. High School tracksters were guests at their first non-home track meet in several weeks, pummeling both the home squad, Frankfort, and Clark County's Southeastern High team in a triangular meet Thursday afternoon.

Victory had its price for the Lions, though—a star jump-and-hurdle specialist David Lee injured his back in a fall in a hurdle race. Although the injury was described as "not serious," Lee was to undergo treatment Friday.

Washington C. H. scored 53 points to win the meet, an edge ahead of Southeastern's 48, and far above Frankfort's 20. The Lions and Southeastern each took five firsts while Frankfort took four. Superior showing in runner-up slots gave the victory to the WHS squad.

First-place slots for the Lions came in the 100-yd. dash, the 220, the shot put, the high jump and the discus. Washington took eight out of nine possible points in the shot, the high jump and the discus.

Bobby Hunter won the 100 and the 220 for the Lions with times of 11.3 and 25.1, respectively. In the shot put, Dan Schlechter won with a distance of 44 feet, 11 1/4 inches.

David Lee, jumping before his injury, took the high jump with five feet, four inches, while Eldon Brown slung the discus 108 feet and eight inches to win that event.

120-yd. high hurdles (17:48)—Cristian (P), McCormick (SE) and Weisheng (SE) and Southward (W) Tie for third.

100-yd. dash (11:3)—Hunter (W), Ramey (SE) and Foster (W).

Shot put (44 ft. 11 1/4 in.)—Schlechter (W), Cryder (SE), Boile (SE) and Summers (W).

180-yd. low hurdles (22:3)—Cristian (P), McCormick (SE), Ramey (SE) and Miller (SE).

880-yd. run (22:3)—Roll (F), Kelley (W) and Wilson (W).

220-yd. dash (25:1)—Hunter (W), Foster (W), Castle (SE).

1/2 mile relay (4:38)—Southeastern and Washington C. H.

Shot put (44 ft. 11 1/4 in.)—Schlechter (W), Cryder (SE), Boile (SE) and Summers (W).

Broad jump (18 ft. 10 in.)—Stockman (SE), Hammond (SE) and Hunter (W).

Pole vault (9 ft. 9 in.)—Hammond (SE) and Miller and Brown (SE) tied for second.

High jump (5 ft. 4 in.)—Lee (W), Burke (W) and Hammond (SE).

Discus throw (108 ft. 8 in.)—Brown (W), Schlechter (W) and Richter (SE).

Totals: Washington C. H. 53, Southeastern 48 and Frankfort 20.

Louisiana Woman Favored In Meet

HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—Wanda Sanchez of Baton Rouge, La., today stepped into the role of favorite to win the 41st Southern Women's Amateur Golf tourney.

The 26-year-old Miss Sanchez demonstrated her ability yesterday by brushing aside veteran Mrs. Sam Byrd of Birmingham.

Her semifinal match today with Mrs. Maurice Glick was her first against the Baltimore ace, who advanced by edging Dorothy Kirby on the 20th hole 1 up.

Mary Patton Janssen of Charlottesville, Va., and Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore clashed in the other semifinal.

Landy All Set For Mile Run In California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Seven runners, headed by world record holder John Landy, compete in a classic mile race in Memorial Coliseum and before a national television audience tomorrow.

The Aussie champ is bent on demonstrating to America how a 4 minute or better mile is run.

Local interest centers also on a dual Pacific Coast Conference battle between two crosstown rivals, Southern California's national champion Trojan track and field team and the challenging Bruins of UCLA.

This could be for the mythical dual meet championship of the nation and UCLA is hoping to do something it never has done before—defeat the Trojans. The prospects are better than usual but probably not good enough.

Landy, the 26-year-old school-teacher from Melbourne, set the world mark of 3:58.0 at Turku, Finland, in 1954, and four times has shaded the once invincible 4-minute standard.

Twice this year in Australia he has done 3:58.6. If all things are in order, he figures to be the first to get below 4 minutes on American soil.

Landy will not want for competition or a warm pace.

Arrayed against him will be Lon Spurrier, the half-mile world record holder, who should burn the track for at least three quarters of a mile.

French Champion Favored In Bout

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ike Chestnut of New York makes his bid for big-time recognition tonight against Cherif Hamia, the French featherweight champion.

The nationally televised ten-round bout gives Chestnut his first go at a top-flight main event. He's at best a 1-to-3 underdog to the baby-faced Hamia, third ranking contender for Sandy Saddler's crown.

Both the little fellows are 25 years old and turned pro in 1953 after long amateur careers.

Atomic Chieftains To Visit Plant

EAST LIVERPOOL (AP)—The atomic chiefs of England and the United States will inspect the atomic installation at nearby Shipping Port, Pa., next Monday.

Sir Edwin Plowin, chairman of the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority, and Lewis S. Strauss, chairman of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, will tour the $50 million atomic generating plant under construction.

The last word in roofing ... ALUMINUM

Think of it . . . a roof that will last for years and years and remain attractive. A strong roof, yet light in weight. You can easily install it yourself. Good for siding, too. Come see this aluminum roofing . . . quick.

Step under an Alcoa Aluminum Roof on a hot day. You'll notice what tests have proved. It's cooler under an aluminum roof because aluminum reflects hot sunshine.

There is still another quality which aluminum gives you. It defies the weather, resists corrosion and practically eliminates upkeep. Once Alcoa roofing or siding is up you can forget it.

Have a look at your buildings and see if they don't need an Alcoa roof that will take care of itself . . . and better care of your stock. The next time you are in town—stop in and see our stocks of Alcoa roofing.

'56 Derby May Be Decided In First Quarter Of Mile

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The winner of the 82nd and richest Kentucky Derby could be decided Saturday in the first quarter mile when the field of 3-year-olds battle for racing room.

Not one of the favorites among the 18 entered Thursday fared well in the draw for positions.

Needles, the 2-1 favorite from the Florida D. and H. Stable, drew the No. 1 post position on the rail. For a speed horse that would be ideal. But the son of Ponder, like his daddy, prefers to drop back in the first part of a race, then storm from behind in the home stretch.

C. V. Whitney's Career Boy, who with Head Man is quoted at 4-1, is the same type of a runner. And he drew No. 2. Head man, who likes to race closer to the early pace, came out much better. He'll start from No. 5, generally considered one of the better post positions.

Countermand, the 8-1 choice from Don Ross' Brandywine Stable of Delaware, who moved into the favorite group with his great stretch finish back of Fabius in the Derby Trial Tuesday, is on the end of the starting gate in the 18th stall. Again this wouldn't be too bad for even a stretch runner like the son of Greek Song.

But Countermand has shown a guard were making threatening gestures.

Races At Lebanon Saturday Night

LEBANON—The Kiwanis Clubs of Lebanon and Mason will sponsor an eight-race harness program Saturday night at Lebanon Raceway, starting at 7:30 o'clock. These races were rained out last Sunday. Proceeds will go to the underprivileged children's funds of the two clubs.

The clubs have sponsored harness races for the past two years. Trophies will be presented to winners of each race and tokens will be given each driver.

More than 200 trotters and pacers are now quartered at Lebanon Raceway, the Warren County Fairgrounds, training for the 25-night spring harness meet which opens here on Saturday night, May 12.

A donation of $1 will be asked with all children under 16 admitted free. Grandstand seats are free.

A matinee harness racing program is to be put on by Washington C. H. Lions at the Fairgrounds there Sunday afternoon. There are to be five races. Proceeds are to go into the club's sight-saving fund.

Will Big Jim Lemon Be Big Bust Again?

After 6-Year Flop,
Washington Senator
Bruises Ball At .381

(By The Associated Press)

Is this the year Jim Lemon of the Washington Senators, a minor league whiz and major league bust for six years, finally is going to make it in the big time?

Big Jim, a 6-foot-4 200-pounder, always could hit well in the pre-season training. Once the season started, however, he generally stopped hitting. First Cleveland and then Washington sadly shipped him back to the minors.

But this is a new year for Lemon. He is bruising the ball at a .381 clip, fourth best in the league, and stands fourth in runs batted in with 13.

Manager Marty Marion of the Chicago White Sox apparently thought it was the "old" Jim Lemon his team was needing Thursday night. Marty needed Roy Sievers passed with a two-out, first-base-open situation in the seventh inning of a 4-4 ball game.

What happened? Lemon blasted a 475-foot home run that knocked the White Sox right out of first place in the American League.

The 7-4 defeat suffered by Chicago enabled the New York Yankees to take over first even though the New Yorkers themselves dropped an 8-7 decision to Kansas City. The Yanks had been ahead on games won and lost right along, but Chicago previously had enjoyed a better percentage because of playing fewer games.

Cleveland, which whipped Baltimore 7-1 behind Mike Garcia's six-hit pitching, still trails Chicago in percentage, although ahead in games won and lost. Boston pulled up to the .500 mark as big Frank Sullivan, an old Tiger tamer, whipped Detroit 5-2 with a six-hitter.

Two streaks were halted abruptly as the National League race developed a tremendous traffic jam with three teams tied for first and three more clubs within a game of the top.

Brooklyn's defending world champions looked like the runaway team of 1955 as they bombed the St. Louis Cardinals 7-3 for their first victory in five starts. Pittsburgh's Bob Friend ended Cincinnati's six-game victory string as he pitched the Pirates to a five-hit, 5-1 victory.

The New York Giants game at Milwaukee was rained out, and both Philadelphia and Chicago had an off day.

The results left Milwaukee, St. Louis and Brooklyn tied for first in games won and lost, with the Braves out ahead on those pesky percentage points. Cincinnati and New York trail by half a game and the Pirates, of all people, are only a game off the pace.

Enos Slaughter, a Yankee discard, tormented his old mates as he doubled and scored the winning run for Kansas City in the ninth inning.

What made it worse for the Yanks was that they had battled back from a 7-2 deficit earlier on home runs by Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer and Yogi Berra. But they could do nothing with relief pitcher Ed Bertschy, who allowed just one hit in the last 4 1-3 innings.

Jim Busby and Al Rosen drove in three runs apiece in helping Garcia gain his first victory.

Sullivan made his lifetime record against Detroit 8-2 with the aid of two-run homers by Dick Gernert and Frank Malzone.

The Dodgers rocked the Cards with four first-inning runs, highlighted by Jackie Robinson's two-run triple, then really went to town with homers by Roy Campanella, Gil Hodges and Carl Furillo in the third. Don Newcombe won his third victory.

Pittsburgh's one-two punch of Dale Long and Frank Thomas accounted for four runs against Cincinnati. Both walloped home runs with a man on base.

Landy All Set For Mile Run In California

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Seven runners, headed by world record holder John Landy, compete in a classic mile race in Memorial Coliseum and before a national television audience tomorrow.

The Aussie champ is bent on demonstrating to America how a minute or better mile is run.

Local interest centers also on a dual Pacific Coast Conference battle between two cross-town rivals, Southern California's national champion Trojan track and field team and the challenging Bruins of UCLA.

This could be for the mythical dual UCLA championship of the nation and UCLA is hoping to do something it never has done before — defeat the Trojans. The prospects are better than usual but probably not good enough.

Landy, the 26-year-old school teacher from Melbourne, set the world mark of 3:58.0 at Turku, Finland, in 1954, and four times has shaded the once invincible 4-minute standard.

Twice this year in Australia he has done 3:58.6. If all things are in order, he figures to be the first to get below 4 minutes on American soil.

Landy will not want for competition or a warm pace.

Arrayed against him will be Lon Spurrier, the half-mile world record holder, who should burn the track for at least three quarters of a mile.

French Champion Favored In Bout

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like Chestnut of New York makes his bid for big-time recognition tonight against Cherif Hamia, the French featherweight champion.

The nationally televised ten-round bout gives Chestnut his first go at a top-flight main event. He's at best a 1-to-3 underdog to the baby-faced Hamia, third ranking contender for Sandy Saddler's crown.

Both the little fellows are 25 years old and turned pro in 1953 after long amateur careers.

Atomic Chieftains To Visit Plant

EAST LIVERPOOL (AP)—The atomic chiefs of England and the United States will inspect the atomic installation at nearby Shipping Port, Pa., next Monday.

Sir Edwin Plowden, chairman of the United Kingdom Atomic Energy Authority, and Lewis S. Strauss, chairman of the United States Atomic Energy Commission, will tour the $50 million atomic generating plant under construction.

in a triangular meet Thursday afternoon.

Victory had its price for the Lions, though—a star jump-and-hurdle specialist David Lee injured his back in a fall in a hurdle race. Although the injury was described as "not serious," Lee was to undergo treatment Friday.

Washington C. H. scored 53 points to win the meet, an edge ahead of Southeastern's 48, and far above Frankfort's 20. The Lions and Southeastern each took five firsts while Frankfort took four Superior showing in runner-up slots gave the victory to the WHS squad.

First-place slots for the Lions came in the 100-yd. dash, the 220, the shot put, the high jump and the discus. Washington took eight out of nine possible points in the shot, the high jump and the discus.

Bobby Hunter won the 100 and the 220 for the Lions with times of 11.3 and 25.1, respectively. In the shot put, Dan Schlichter won with a distance of 44 feet, 11 1/4 inches. David Lee, jumping before his injury, took the high jump with five feet, four inches, while Eldon Brown lunged the discus 108 feet and eight inches to win that event.

Cooler ...

No painting ...

Easy to handle ...

Think of it . . . a roof that will last for years and years and remain attractive. A strong roof, yet light in weight. You can easily install it yourself. Good for siding, too. Come see this aluminum roofing . . . quick.

Step under an Alcoa Aluminum Roof on a hot day. You'll notice what tests have proved. It's cooler under an aluminum roof because aluminum reflects hot sunshine.

There is still another quality which aluminum gives you. It defies the weather, resists corrosion and practically eliminates upkeep. Once Alcoa roofing or siding is up you can forget it.

Have a look at your buildings and see if they don't need an Alcoa roof that will take care of itself . . . and better care of your stock. The next time you are in town—stop in and see our stocks of Alcoa roofing.

'56 Derby May Be Decided In First Quarter Of Mile

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The winner of the 82nd and richest Kentucky Derby could be decided Saturday in the first quarter mile when the field of 3-year-olds battle for racing room.

Not one of the favorites among the 18 entered Thursday fared well in the draw for positions.

Needles, the 2-1 favorite from the Florida D. and H. Stable, drew the No. 1 post position on the rail. For a speed horse that would be ideal. But the son of Ponder, like his daddy, prefers to drop back in the first part of a race, then storm from behind in the home stretch.

C. V. Whitney's Career Boy, who with Head Man is quoted at 4-1, is the same type of a runner. And he drew No. 2. Head man, who likes to race closer to the early pace, came out much better. He'll start from No. 5, generally considered one of the better post positions.

Countermand, the 8-1 choice from Don Ross' Brandywine Stable of Delaware, who moved into the favorite group with his great stretch finish back of Fabius in the Derby Trial Tuesday, is on the end of the starting gate in the 18th stall. Again this wouldn't be too bad for even a stretch runner like the son of Greek Song.

But Countermand has shown a guard were making threatening gestures.

Finsterwald, who plays out of Athens, Ohio, Harney, who comes from Bolton, Mass., and Thomson, the British open champion from Melbourne, Australia, shot 1-under-par 69s yesterday to take the first round lead.

One stroke back were three noted shotmakers from Texas, Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Tommy Bolt.

Tebbetts named Art Fowler to pitch against the Pirates tonight against Dick Hall.

Finsterwald Tied For Tourney Lead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Three of golf's rising young men—Dow Finsterwald, Paul Harney and Peter Thomson—led the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation Tournament into its second round today but three members of the old tendency to bear out and it'll take all of jockey Arnold Kirkman's horsemanship to keep him in contention during the first part of the race so he'll be in position to move when Needles and Career Boy cut loose—that is if they do.

Only Fabius, who along with Pintor Lea is seeking a sixth Derby triumph for Mrs. Gene Markey's Calumet Farm, came out of the post position draw with the best break of the choices. He drew No. 13.

Pintor Lea, who drew No. 4, could be the surprise of the race if he has recovered sufficiently from a wrenched knee that retarded his training.

It looks now as if the 100,000 or so fans and the horses, at least those who prefer a fast track, will get a break in the weather. The forecast is fair and cool.

Although 18 were named, there is a possibility that no more than 17 will start since T. A. Grissom's Reaping Right injured a leg in a workout shortly after the Detroit owner planked down the $250 entry fee. On the basis of 17 starters the race will gross $167,550 with a net of $123,450 to the winner. Both will be record figures.

Pennsy Bowler Chalks 856 Series

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Russ Keim of Pottstown rolled an 856 triple, believed one of the highest scores ever recorded in a recognized bowling league.

Keim started off last night with a perfect 300 and then added games of 279 and 277 while competing in the Pottstown major league, a group sanctioned by the American Bowling Congress.

there's a difference you know

Properly seasoned lumber has many advantages. Greater nail holding power, greater resistance to decay, better dimensional stability, and greater long run economy. It requires knowledge and experience to select good lumber. We are proud that we are able to do so. See us for your lumber requirements.

Frank Weade PTO President

Class Night Staged At Wilson Meeting

Frank Weade was reelected president of the Wilson School Parent Teacher Organization for a second year at a meeting of the school Thursday evening.

Other officers elected at the end-of-the-year meeting were Frank Dill, vice-president for a second term; Mrs. Howard Miller, secretary succeeding Mrs. Emerson Carter and L. E. Juillierat, treasurer for a second term.

The new officers were nominated by a committee including Mrs. Russell Grice, Mrs. Albert Caplinger, Joseph McClure and Dr. Richard Junk.

A membership drive is underway in the PTO Cub Scout Pack, it was announced at the session by Charles Callender. The pack, a new one-den unit now, hopes to increase its size to two dens as soon as possible.

Leading the new pack are Howard Miller, cubmaster; Mrs. Richard Junk, den mother and Mrs. Paul Keefer, assistant den mother.

An auditing committee, to examine the PTO books between now and next September, was appointed at the session. Members of the committee are Mrs. Richard Rankin, chairman, Franklin Coil and Osman King.

Attendance banner for the meeting was awarded to the seventh and eighth grades.

CLASS NIGHT for the graduating Wilson eighth graders highlighted the evening's program at the meeting. Eddie Juillierat, the class president, emceed the program.

A class history was read by Lynda Stephenson, a prophecy by Mary Alice Coil, and the class will by Sharon Lou Smith. Luther Wilcox read the class notes, and Larry Wright read the class outlook. Karen Stephenson read the class poem, which she wrote.

A piano solo, "Narcissus," was played by Karen Ware.

Members of the class are David Cockerill, Mary Alice Coil, Herbert Dearth, Shirley Drake, Virginia Evans, Bobby Green, Mike Helfrich, Eddie Juillierat, Ronnie Langley, Barbara Mick, Ruby Perkins, Dean Ramey, Sharon Lou Smith, Karen Stephenson, Lynda Stephenson, Stephen Trobert, Karen Jo Ware, Luther Wilcox, Gloria Wright and Larry Wright.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting, with tables gaily decorated with the class colors, red and white. Flowers of red and white adorned the center of the tables.

On the refreshment committee were all the mothers of seventh grade youngsters. Chairman was Mrs. Richard Rankin.

Wayne PTO Advances Monthly Meeting Date

Regular meeting of the Wayne Parent-Teacher Organization will be held May 14 instead of May 7, Mrs. William Dunn, the group secretary, announced Friday morning.

The meeting had originally been scheduled for the 7th, Mrs. Dunn said, but unavoidable circumstances have caused the date change.

City School District Boundaries And Salaries Discussed by Board

A small expansion of the Washington C. H. School District today was in prospect following action by the School Board at its regular meeting Thursday night.

This was the meeting that had been advanced from Monday night to avoid conflict with the "School Daze," the stage extravaganza that is to be presented by members of the faculty, school employees and School Board members Monday night. Money from "School Daze" is to go into a fund to provide a scholarship for some deserving senior who wants to become a teacher.

Cub Pack Plans Third Birthday

Milledgeville Group Anniversary Soon

Plans for a third-birthday celebration for the Milledgeville Cub Scout Pack were made at a meeting in the Milledgeville School Thursday evening.

A potluck supper will be held May 26 in honor of the pack's birthday, and six boys will be inducted into the ranks of Scouting at the affair. The group will be the first six graduated from the troop.

After graduation, they will move into a brand-new Milledgeville Scout Troop, now being formed to accommodate them.

Two boys were presented Wolf badges at the session. They were Randy Dice and Curtis Hiser, among the newer members of the three-year old unit.

A DELEGATION will be sent to the Scout Recognition Dinner May 11, it was agreed at the session. Included will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hiser, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Creamer and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Klontz.

Willard Dice was named assistant cubmaster by the unit at the meeting.

Singing highlighted the evening's recreation. Pack members sang "Comin' 'Round The Mountain," "Little Tommy Tinker," "The Smoke Goes Up the Chimney," and "Three Blind Mice."

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Eugene Klontz, Mrs. Willard Dice, Mrs. Charles Hiser and Mrs. Robert Creamer.

Members of the pack are Randy Dice, Jackie Vaught, Vernon Klontz, Billy Creamer, J. P. Morgan, Curtis Hiser, Roger Hodge, Bobby Russell and Johnny Bartuff.

In one move to extend the school district boundary, the board accepted a small tract at the southern edge of the city that had been transferred by the county School Board several weeks ago. The transfer was made on a petition by Ed Vollette and Dr. J. H. Persinger.

There now will be a 30-day remonstrance period before the transfer becomes final. There are only two homes on the tract.

The other possibility of extension of the district lines came up during the discussion of the annexation of three subdivisions and the Ohio Water Service Co. tract by the city. The three subdivisions annexed by the city are the Willis subdivision on Dayton Avenue, the Armbrust subdivision on Leesburg Avenue and the Brownell subdivision on Washington Avenue.

During the discussion, it was brought out that R. M. Eymann, the state director of education, had advised school officials that any annexation proceedings started by a city prior to Sept. 29, 1955, automatically become a part of that school district. Proceedings on all of the above territories were started before that date.

ESTIMATES of anticipated revenues for next year were studied by the board. These estimates showed that $277,348 is expected from the state School Foundation. This was based on an 82 unit formula, but it was noted that 86.5 units are needed.

The total anticipated income for the 1956 year was $512,781.

On the basis of these figures, an increase of $4,811 was expected for the year 1957.

These figures took into consideration the increases granted by the state School Foundation on the 30-pupil unit formula. To participate in this, and to meet the 30-pupil unit standard it would be necessary to increase the teaching staff by 7.5.

Analysis by the board of the developing situation showed that about half of the increase in teachers would be paid by the state and a little more than half from local funds.

The new teaching corps would include 56.5 elementary teachers and 29 high school teachers and one superintendent of all the classes were set up on the 30-pupil unit basis.

Thus, the estimates of anticipated revenue show that the school here will get more money under the new state-approved plan next year than they did this year with the 230 tuition students.

INCREASES in teacher salaries were discussed in connection with plans to revise the salary schedule. However, the details were left for a meeting of the Salary Schedule Committee next Wednesday night.

Supt. W. A. Smith had gotten salary schedules from several schools of comparable size, which the board studied. These, it was agreed, would be passed along to the Salary Schedule Committee as a guide for them when it meets Wednesday.

The state minimum schedule provides for teachers with up to 2.99 years of training, $2,600; from 3.39 years, $2,800; with a bachelor's degree, $3,000; with a bachelor's degree plus one year $3,200, and with a master's degree $3,400.

The schedule here is for the first category $2,600; for the second $2,860; for the third $3,000; the fourth $3,200, and the fifth $3,400.

The Wilmington schedule minimums are for the first category $2,800; second $3,000; third $3,400; fourth $3,600 and fifth $3,700. Thus, the Wilmington schools are above the state minimums in all five categories.

Schedules from three other schools showed they were above the minimums in all categories by essentially the same margins. The other school schedules considered were Miamisburg, Bexley, and Grandview. The schedule from Hillsboro was not received in time for consideration.

Film Scheduled For Methodist Brotherhood

A film, "The First Step on Family Life," will highlight the regular meeting of the Greene-Fayette County Methodist Brotherhood, set for Monday in the Milledgeville Methodist Church at 8 P. M.

The "Vets," a quartette from Washington C. H., will entertain at the session.

Rev. George Groh is pastor of the Milledgeville Church.

Money from "School Daze" is to go into a fund to provide a scholarship for some deserving senior who wants to become a teacher.

In one move to extend the school district boundary, the board accepted a small tract at the southern edge of the city that had been transferred by the county School Board several weeks ago. The transfer was made on a petition by Ed Vollette and Dr. J. H. Persinger.

There now will be a 30-day remonstrance period before the transfer becomes final. There are only two homes on the tract.

The other possibility of extension of the district lines came up during the discussion of the annexation of three sub-divisions and the Ohio Water Service Co. tract by the city. The three subdivisions annexed by the city are the Willis subdivision out Dayton Avenue, the Armbrust subdivision out Leesburg Avenue and the Brownell subdivision out Washington Avenue.

During the discussion, it was brought out that R. M. Eymann, the state director of education, had advised school officials that any annexation proceedings started by a city prior to Sept. 29, 1955, automatically become a part of that school district. Proceedings on all of the above territories were started before that date.

ESTIMATES of anticipated revenues for next year were studied by the board. These estimates showed that $277,348 is expected from the state School Foundation. This was based on an 82 unit formula, but it was noted that 86.5 units are needed.

Expected from local taxes (with 100 percent collection) is $240,209. Income from these two sources, based on the estimates, amounted to $517,557.

The total anticipated income for the 1956 year was $512,781.

On the basis of these figures, an increase of $4,811 was expected for the year 1957.

These figures took into consideration the increases granted by the state School Foundation on the 30-pupil unit formula. To participate in this, and to meet the 30-pupil unit standard it would be necessary to increase the teaching staff by 7.5.

Analysis by the board of the developing situation showed that about half of the increase in teachers would be paid by the state and a little more than half from local funds.

The new teaching corps would include 56.3 elementary teachers and 29 high school teachers and one superintendent of all the classes were set up on the 30-pupil unit basis.

Thus, the estimates of anticipated revenue show that the schools here will get more money under the new state-approved plan next year than they did this year with the 230 tuition students.

INCREASES in teacher salaries were discussed in connection with plans to revise the salary schedule. However, the details were left for a meeting of the Salary Schedule Committee next Wednesday night.

Supt. W. A. Smith had gotten salary schedules from several schools of comparable size, which the board studied. These, it was agreed, would be passed along to the Salary Schedule Committee as a guide for them when it meets Wednesday.

These schedules showed the Washington C. H. salaries have been either slightly above or equal to the state minimum requirements in four of the five classes. The fifth class was below by $100 a year.

The state minimum schedule provides for teachers with up to 2.99 years of training, $2,600; from 3-3.99 years, $2,800; with a bachelor's degree, $3,000; with a bachelor's degree plus one year $3,200, and with a master's degree $3,400.

The schedule here is for the first category $2,660; for the second $2,860; for the third $3,000; the fourth $3,200, and the fifth $3,400.

The Wilmington schedule minimums are for the first category $2,800; second $3,000; third $3,400; fourth $3,600 and fifth $3,700. Thus, the Wilmington schools are above the state minimums in all five categories.

Schedules from three other schools showed they were above the minimums in all categories by essentially the same margins. The other school schedules considered were Miamisburg, Bexley, and Grandview. The schedule from Hillsboro was not received in time for consideration.

A physician devotes many years of his life to learning all about the properties of the body, the diseases that assault it, and the remedies that will benefit it. All his learning and experience is available to you.

Do you make proper use of his ability and willingness to help you live a healthier life? Do you consult him at the beginning of an illness, or wait until you are so sick that treatment is more difficult? Be wise. Depend more on your physician instead of self treatments.

COLUMBUS (AP) — Secretary of State Ted Brown today received word of the death of William J. O'Brien of Sandusky who has served continuously on the Erie County Election Board since 1910.

Brown said that made O'Brien the oldest election board member in Ohio in point of service. O'Brien was a Republican.

Huge Searchlights Top Skyscraper

NEW YORK (AP) — The Empire State Building, the world's tallest building, now may boast of being the world's highest lighthouse.

On the 90th floor of the 103-story building last night, four searchlights with beams totaling nearly two billion candlepower went into operation.

Under the most favorable weather conditions, the lights should be visible for 300 miles from the air and 80 to 95 miles on the ground.
